Attempted Suicide in a Bagnio — A Swede Drowns Himself—Crop Prospect in the North-west.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.

CHICAGO May 12.—This morning about nine o'clock, a young man named Orrin Henan, a liquor dealer doing business at 52 Franklin street, went to a well known house of ill fame, kept by May Brown, with whom he was on terms of close intimacy, went into a bedroom and laid down, telling May that he had been up all night and was sleepy. Soon after a groan was heard in the room where Henan was. May entered and found her visitor with a handkerchief steeped with chloroform tied over his mouth, and insensible. Doctors were immediately called, and it was discovered that he had taken a large quantity of laudanum and morphine in addition to the chloroform. A stomach pump was applied, and he was restored to consciousness. There is a possibility of his recovery. Henan has been completely infatuated with May Brown, who is some years older than himself, but she has treated him with indifference. This was doubtless the cause of the attempt at self-destruction.

A Swede, whose name could not be ascertained, committed suicide by drowning himself in Highland Park this morning. He had vainly sought employment, was out of money, and in despair threw himself into the lake.

Reports received in this city from various parts of the Northwest are to the effect that the new wheat crop is in an excellent condition and promises an abundant harvest. A much greater breadth of land has been put into wheat this year than ever before. If no unforeseen disaster occurs, the crop will be unprecedented.

Margaret Murray, an inmate of one of the nunneries in this city, who threw herself into the river on Sunday morning and was rescued, died yesterday from the effects of her cold bath.

STEAMBOAT DISASTER.

The Clifton, Westmoreland, Melnotte, Mary Erwin, Cheyenne and Darling Burned at Cincinnati—Total Loss, $235,000—Total Insurance, $135,000.

CINCINNATI, May 12.—The most destructive conflagration of steamboats that ever occurred in this city raged at the New Orleans and Memphis packet landing this morning. The fire broke out at two o'clock on the steamer Clifton. It extended to the Westmoreland and Melnotte, above, and to the Cheyenne, Mary Erwin and Darling, below. These six boats were soon enveloped in flames. The hulls of the Melnotte and Darling may be used again; the others are a total loss.

The fire originated in the chambermaid's room, on the Clifton, by the upsetting of a coal oil lamp. Fourteen kegs of of powder, on the Cheyenne, exploded, scattering the flames. The Westmoreland had two hundred barrels of coal oil on board, and the Cheyenne had two hundred and fifty barrels of coal oil. The Melnotte belongs to Williamson, Isham and Captain Keniston; value, $8,000; insured for $6,000 in the Union, Farmers and one other Company. The Westmoreland was owned by Captain Byers, Rusk and Woolf, and ran in the New Orleans trade; value, $20,000; seventy tons of freight were aboard; insurance, $15,000. She was an old boat. The Clifton, a fine Memphis packet, five years old, one-third loaded, was owned by the Memphis Packet Company; valued at $35,000; insured for $22,000. The Mary Erwin, an Arkansas river boat, just repaired, belonged to George Wolf; no freight aboard; valued at $12,000; insured for $12,000 in the Central and several Pittsburgh offices. The Cheyenne ran on the Arkansas river trade; was owned by Captain John Kye; a new boat, only eight months in use; loaded with valuable freight, about 300 tons; boat valued at $30,000; insured for $14,500; estimated value of cargo $50,000. The powder on this boat was carried ashore. The Darling belongs to the Memphis Packet Company; she had just put off a cargo of cotton, most of which was lost; hull saved; value $25,000; insured for $20,000.

Rumors are afloat that several lives have been lost, but up to noon no names have been reported. The following is believed to be a pretty accurate statement of the insurance on the boats burned: Clifton, insured for $3,000 each by the Crescent, Boatman's, Commercial and Magnolia Companies, for 2,500 in the Eureka, for $1,500 each in the Buckeye and Central, for $5,000 in the Enterprise; total $22,500. The Westmoreland, insured for $2,500 each in six Companies, namely: Cresent, American, Franklin, National, Union, and Queen City. Total 10,000. The Melnotte was insured for $2,000 each in three Companies, viz: National, Union, and Farmers. Total $6,000. The Darling was insured for $2,000 each in eight Companies, viz: Cresent, Boatmen's, Magnolia, Eureka, Buckeye, Central, American, and Union, and for four thousand in the Enterprise. Total, $20,000. The Cheyenne, for $3,000 each in the Boatmen's, Eureka, Central and American, and for $2,000 in the Franklin; total, $14,000. The Mary Erwin in two companies, Western, $2,500, Central, $1,250; total, $3,750. Total insurance, $81,250.

Later Particulars—The boats burned this morning are the Darling, built at Pittsburgh, December, '63, F. Y. Bachelor, G. Isham, et. al., owners. Cheyenne, built at Cincinnati, May, '68; Erwin, built at Cincinnati March, '66, George Wolf et al. owners. The Westmoreland, built at Brownsville, Pa., December, '60. Rush and Byers owners. Melnotte, built at California, Pa., March, '56, E. Gordon, et al., of Pittsburgh, owners.

The insurance valuation on the boats is as follows: Clifton, $35,000; Westmoreland, $28,000; Melnotte, $11,000; Darling, $18,000; Cheyenne, $28,000; Mary Erwin, $15,000. Total, $135,000. The Mary Erwin is insured for $10,000, of which $2,500 is in Cincinnati and the remainder in Pittsburgh Companies. Many believe that but one man, a deck hand on the Cheyenne, was lost. Others say that James B. Clark, an Arkansas trader, was lost on the Cheyenne. The loss of freight was $100,000; nearly all insured. Total loss, $235,000.

The New Orleans Commercial Convention.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW ORLEANS, May 12.—The Committee of Invitation to the Commercial Convention, which meets on the 24th inst., are receiving favorable responses to their invitations. The prospects are encouraging for a large attendance. The Committee have arranged that all delegates attending shall be returned free over the lines of travel. They will also be entertained at the hotels of this city at half rates. Rhode Island Election—Sprague Dodge Defeated.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

PROVIDENCE, R. I., May 12.—The municipal election took place to-day. The candidates for Mayor were Geo. L. Clark, Republican, Thomas A. Doyle, Sprague Republican, and Nicholas Van Slick, Democrat. This morning Doyle published a letter withdrawing from the canvass, but about an hour before the polls closed this evening his friends made a rally and put in about one thousand votes, hoping to overthrow the election, as the vote was light. The movement was a failure, however. Geo. L. Clarke was elected Mayor by a majority of 1,418 over all, the vote standing, Clarke 3,607, Doyle 1,341, and Van Slyck 835. The City Council is mainly Republican. The anti-Sprague men are jubilant.

—The Executive Committee of the National Board of Underwriters of New York have adopted a resolution to divide the whole country into six departments, with headquarters at Hartford, New York, Philadelphia, Cincinnati, Chicago, and one place not yet designated. Each department is to be under the control of the member of the Executive Committee residing in the same. Fifteen per cent. was fixed upon as the maximum per centage to be allowed insurance agents of any company in fellowship with the National Board.

President and Cabinet Invited to the Boston Peace Jubilee—General McClellan—The Object of the Government in Purchasing Bonds—The Sinking Fund—The Warlike News from Europe.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, May 12, 1869.

INVITED TO THE PEACE JUBILEE.

Mayor Shurtleff and a committee from Boston, escorted by Judge Richardson, Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, this morning visited the President and the members of the Cabinet and General Sherman, and extended an invitation to them to attend the National Peace Jubilee next month. The gentlemen expressed their thanks for the invitation, and the committee are encouraged to believe that nearly all will be present. The President, in response to Mayor Shurtleff's invitation, stated, after expressing his thanks for the courtesy, that he would, if public business permitted, be pleased to attend the ceremonies at Boston.

THE NEWS FROM EUROPE.

No information concerning an alliance against the United States has been received at the Spanish, French or English Legations. If for no other reason, it is not customary to communicate information of initial treaty movements to foreign representatives. The London telegram at first occasioned general and spirited comments, but to-night nobody appears to attach full credit to the announcement. The President and Secretary Boutwell were early informed of the contents of the dispatch, but apart from this they had no information.

THE GOVERNMENT PURCHASE OF BONDS.

The Secretary of the Treasury states that the purchase of bonds, under notice issued by the Assistant Treasurer at New York, was made in conformity to the act of 1862, and that it is not the design of the Secretary to put these bonds again upon the market, nor is it his expectation that they will in any form be re issued. His object is the reduction of the principal and interest of the public debt.

National Encampment at Cincinnati—The Opening Exercises—Eloquent Addresses.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

CINCINNATI, May 12.—The National Encampment G. A. R., met at Hopkins Hall. The Hall is decorated with banners that have seen service. Long lists of names of battles, also of prominent Generals are displayed on the walls. The private reception exercises commenced at noon. Gen. W. H. Baldwin delivered the address of welcome, concluding as follows: "In behalf of the Corporation of Cincinnati, expressed by an order of her City Councils, I welcome you and tender you the hospitalities of the city, and invite you to visit such of our public institutions and other objects of interest as you may deem worthy of your attention. In behalf of the people of Cincinnati I welcome you to our city, and assure you of the pleasure it will give them to extend to you their hospitality and every courtesy within their power. Comrades, one and all, I bid you welcome to Cincinnati."

Gen. Chapman, Adjutant General of the Order, replied briefly. Gen. Logan then called the Convention to order.

The order calling the Convention being read, Rev. Dr. Quint offered a prayer.

Gen. Logan then delivered an address, referring to the organizing of the Union army and the peaceful disbandonment of the same as the most remarkable phenomena in history. He congratulated the Order upon its success, and urged his comrades to foster it.

N. P. Chipman, Adjutant General, read his report, which was referred. The meeting then adjourned till evening.

The reception at Hopkins was one to which members alone were admitted. In the evening there was a public reception at Wesley Chapel. The house was crowded. W. L. Collier, of Cleveland, made the opening prayer. An eloquent address was delivered by Rev. William Earnshaw, Chaplain of the National Military Asylum at Dayton. His subject was the objects of the G. A. R. One of these, he said, was to supply one place in all the world where rebels could not go. The address was able and impressive.

Short addresses were made by Gen. John A. Logan and Gen. Warren Keifer, after which "America" and the "Battle Hymn of the Republic" were sung. The Zouave Band furnished the instrumental music.

News From Mexico.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

HAVANA, May 12.—News from Mexico to the 5th is received. The revolutionists in Sinaloa have been routed, and fled to the mountains. The appointment of Mr. Skelton as American Consul at Mexico was well received. Mexican journals represent the Prussian Minister as a mere commercial agent. The State of Guanajuato is extremely hostile, and bids defiance to the Minister. The propriety of issuing greenbacks meets with great opposition. The idea of the establishment of a Protectorate by the United States causes much excitement among the Mexicans.

WOMAN SUFFRAGE.

Anniversary of the American Equal Rights League—A Lively Time Among the Strong Minded.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, May 12.—The anniversary of the American Equal Rights Association was held in Steinway Hall to-day. The audience, mainly composed of ladies, was very large and intelligent. Elizabeth Cady Stanton presided, and opened the proceedings in a brief address.

The Treasurer's report was read, showing the receipts and expenditures of the year to be $1,745 97, and no cash on hand.

Lucy Stone read the report of the Executive Committee, showing the efforts made by the society to have woman suffrage introduced in Congress and various State legislatures.

Rev. O. B. Frothingham argued strongly in favor of the right of women to vote.

Mrs. Stanton followed in an eloquent address on woman's wrongs and her rights. She favored the enfranchisement of women before any other men or class, white or black, are enfranchised.

Miss Lillie Peckham, of Milwaukee, reported the following nominations of permanent officers: President, Lucretia Mott; Corresponding Secretaries, Mary E. Gage, Harriet Purvis; Recording Secretary, Henry B. Blackwell; Treasurer, Jno. J. Merritt; also, a full list of Vice Presidents and a numerous Executive Committee. The nominations were accepted by the audience.

Rev. Stephen C. Foster made a rambling speech, during which he was several times called to order. He continued, however, and made a sharp attack upon Miss Anthony in regard to the manner in which she had kept the accounts of the Society. Miss Anthony pronounced the statement respecting her a falsehood. Mrs. Stanton also took decided exception to the aspersion cast upon her official conduct.

The Chairman decided Mr. Foster out of order, which was loudly applauded by the spectators. Mr. Foster resumed his remarks, but was loudly hissed, when Frederick Douglass attempted to stop the quarrel but with little effect, as the audience evidently listened to the speaker under protest. Mr. Foster claimed he had the floor by right and he did not propose to yield. At this time the ladies on the platform became much excited, and threats of ejecting the speaker by the aid of the Police were freely made. It was difficult in the excitement to hear the speaker, but it was understood he claimed the Association preached one doctrine and practiced another. He said he had been declared out of order because he contradicted the assertions of a woman, from which he supposed he could contradict a man on the platform but not a woman. This is woman's rights with a vengeance.

Mr. Blackwell defended Miss Anthony. He admitted that the Revolution had not always acted in good faith toward the negro, but he knew neither Mrs. Stanton or Miss Anthony were to blame. George Francis Train had withdrawn from it, and in future the paper will advocate equal rights for all.

Frederick Douglass followed. He thought there was an element of slang directed toward the negro in the adurss of Mrs. Stanton. Some of the comparisons in the speech reflected severely, he thought, on the black race. He was sorry to be compelled to say he had noticed the same evidence of backsliding in the columns of the Revolution. He referred in forcible language to acts of ruffianism committed against the blacks in this city during the July riots, and he argued eloquently in favor of the right of the ballot for all, black women as well as white.

Miss Anthony followed in a sharp speech in favor of women suffrage, during which she insinuated the right of the ballot had been given to the negro at the expense of the woman.

Mrs. Sarah Norton said we should not consider the woman question and the negro question at the same time.

Lucy Stone spoke to the question whether this was a negro's or a woman's platform. Mr. Douglass advocated negro suffrage first, woman's afterwards. Mrs. Anthony would reverse this and she differed with both. There should be no question of precedence. She repudiated the idea of educated suffrage. The consent of the governed to all laws for their government is an established principle, no matter whether they can read or write, or are male or female. She spoke of Mr. Douglass being in a State in which, if he owns two thousand five hundred dollars in real estate, he can vote. If woman had this privilege she would dig in the earth with her nails, if necessary, to raise that sum. She would vote before the year was out. [Applause.] From woman's wrongs we claim woman's rights. She proceeded to comment severely on the laws in all States, except New York and Kansas, which were oppressive of woman, placing wife and children at the mercy of the husband. There are two oceans of bitterness, she said. In one was the negro and in the other our own women. She thanked God for the fifteenth amendment, and hoped it would be adopted in every State. [Applause.] She contended that peace, order and harmony would be promoted by giving women the right to vote. There is no other means given under Heaven whereby the country can be saved but that of woman. She believed women would vote for the next President of the United States, for when men and women work together, what they undertake cannot fail to be accomplished.

The meeting then adjourned.

Another session was held this evening which was addressed by Mrs. Livermore and Olive Logan. Among the Vice Presidents for the ensuing year are Henry Ward Beecher, Frederick Douglass, Gov. Fairchild, of Wisconsin, Hon. Wm. Loughridge, of Illinois, Geo. W. Julian, of Indiana, B. F. Wade, of Ohio, Senator Nye, of Nevada, and Gov. Ashley, of Montana.

Danville, Olney and Ohio River Railroad.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

OLNEY, Ill., May 12.—The books were opened to-day for subscriptions to the stock of the Danville, Olney and Ohio River Railroad, chartered at the last session of the Legislature, and a sufficient amount has already been taken to organize the company. The election of Directors will take place in Olney May 19th. This is one of the greatest projected reads in the country, forming a continuous line from Chicago to New Orleans, crossing the Ohio river at Paducah, where an appropriation has been made by the Government for a bridge. Prominent men here from different places along the proposed route are sanguine of success.

MEETING OF MINISTERS.

Important Matters Discussed—Decoration Day—The Sabbath Question—Obscene Publications—What Was Done—Mayor Brush Endorsed, &c., &c.

Our readers doubtless observed the call published in our last issue, for a meeting of ministers to be held in the First Presbyterian Church, (Rev. Scovel's) Wood street, yesterday afternoon at two o'clock. In accordance with the announcement, a number of ministers assembled at the appointed time and place, when the meeting was organized by calling Rev. John T. Pressly D. D. to the chair.

Owing to the impromptu character of the arrangements, the attendance was not very large but the proceedings were of importance and were marked with much animation and earnestness.

Dr. Pressly opened the meeting with prayer.

OBJECT OF THE MEETING.

Rev. Mr. Scovel, one of the originators of the affair, then stated the meeting had been called for the purpose of considering three important matters: First—In reference to the change of time for celebrating the Decoration or Memorial Day, from the twenty-ninth to the thirtieth instant. Second—Relative to the exhibition and sale of obscene publications on the streets. Third—The propriety of organizing a Sabbath Association.

DECORATION DAY.

The Chairman stated the first question would be taken up.

Rev. Scovel said he had understood that but a small majority of the persons having the matter in charge had decided to change the time of the celebration, and it had been represented to him that if a proper effort were made by those opposed to the measure on moral grounds it might be arranged differently. A meeting of the Executive Committee of the G. A. R. would be held on Friday afternoon, at which any suggestions could be made. The opponents of the change had not been heard, and if they but properly presented their case it was sure of a candid and just consideration.

Dr. Howard wished to know if there was no other authority to which application for fixing a time could be made.

Rev. Scovel said, that as General Logan, Chief Commander of the G. A. R., had issued an order, permitting the observance of either the 29th or 30th, the question now merely resolved itself into a local issue, and could be settled at home.

Rev. Travelli held the same opinion as Mr. Scovel and thought the matter might be satisfactorily arranged by a consultation with the Executive Committee having it in charge. He thought it would be manifestly to the detriment of the celebration to have it on the Sabbath, as then many persons heartily in sympathy with the object, yet with moral convictions of the sanctity of the day, could not engage in the exercises. He had understood that a number of soldiers' orphans in the different benevolent institutions in the vicinity, were expected to participate, but a gentlemen connected with one of the largest of these institutions stated to him, if the Sabbath was decided upon as "Memorial Day," the children would not be allowed to attend.

He was in favor of making the celebration two fold, on Saturday the decoration, and on Sunday, requesting the ministers in the vicinity to shape their services that the object might be kept in view, and thus be made more solemn and impressive. A statement of these facts he thought would have great influence with the Committee.

Dr. Brown thought this a very good suggestion. The ministry and the moral community were in hearty sympathy with the object, and desired to engage with heart and soul in the sacred exercises commemorative of the patriotism, devotion and sacrifice of the honored dead, but at the same time they wished to obey the dictates of conscience in the matter. It could easily be arranged by the plan proposed, which would accommodate all persons.

Rev. Scovel moved that Revs. Dr. Howard and Hanna be appointed a committee to prepare a report expressive of the sense of the meeting relative to this matter. Carried, with the addition of Rev. Scovel to the committee.

THE SECOND QUESTION.

While the committee were absent, preparing their report, the second question relative to the suppression of the sale of obscene publications was taken up.

Rev. Scovel thought the exhibition of obsene pictorial prints on the bulletin boards of our newsdealers a very great evil, and one which he observed to be on the increase. There were a number of places where these prints had been for a long time exposed, and he had observed them blossoming out in some of the principal thoroughfares of both cities. An attempt had been made some time ago by the authorities to suppress the business and with a degree of success. Renewed exertions in this direction were now needed. He had often noticed children examining these picture, on their way to and from school, and the effect could not but be pernicious in the highest degree. Children were attracted by pictures and would examine them anywhere, and such illustrations, corrupting and ruinous in their effects, should be placed entirely out of their reach.

Dr. Brown coincided with Rev. Scovel's remarks. He had often noticed crowds of children, boys and girls, gathered around these pictures, and many times when passing, heard vulgar comments which would have put to blush any lover of virtue. He thought the moral integrity of the rising community demanded the complete suppression of this traffic. As it was now, a person could hardly enter a news depot and look among papers there without coming in contact with these corrupting prints. He had been astonished that respectable dealers would have them on sale, and had often thought of remonstrating with those with whom he was acquainted. This, however, would not avail. Suppression of the entire business was the only safeguard.

Rev. Mr. Clark said the difficulty in the case was in establishing a line of demarcation. All illustrated publications were not corrupting. Pictorials of high tone, such as Harper's Weekly, were doing a good work in elevating the people. It was difficult to know where to draw the line in the case. If the exact papers were specified, it might be accomplished, but even then it would be difficult, as many of them were only ephemeral, lived today, and were succeeded to-morrow by others, if possible, more vile in character.

Rev. Scovel said nothing could be done outside the law. The law only spoke in general terms of such publications.

Mr. Clark—Then all we can do is to ask the Mayor to use his discretion in the matter.

Chairman—Certainly, that is all we can do. The power is in his hands. He is charged with the enforcement of the law.

Some further discussion ensued, when, on motion, a committee, consisting of Revs. Dr. Douglas and Clark, were appointed to prepare a resolution on the subject.

WHEN TO CELEBRATE IT.

The following report of the Committee on Decoration Day was now presented by Dr. Howard:

WHEREAS, It has been proposed to have the decoration of the graves of our departed soldiers, and other services connected with the Memorial Day on the 30th inst.: and whereas, this occurs on the Sabbath, a day sacred, in our view, to the service of Almighty God, therefore Resolved, 1. That this meeting, composed of clergymen of various denominations, earnestly recommend that, after the example of those interested in this celebration in the city of Washington and elsewhere, the arrangement be so changed as to have the celebration on Saturday the 29th inst.

Resolved, 2. That we highly approve of the object itself, and desire, if a day is fixed that we can take part in the services without violating our consciences, to participate in what will honor the memory of those who sacrificed their lives in the defence of our government and institutions.

The report was unanimously adopted, and Revs. J. T. Pressly, Scovel, Clark, Hanna, Howard and Locke appointed to present it to the Executive Committee of the G. A. R.

THE SABBATH QUESTION.

An informal discussion next ensued, in reference to the organization of a Sabbath Association. Nothing definite was decided upon and the matter was dropped, with the understanding that a meeting would be held some time during the early part of next week for the especial consideration of this subject.

THE LAW INVOKED.

The committee in reference to the suppression of the traffic in obscene publications, presented the following:

To the Hon. J. M. Brush Mayor:

DEAR SIR: At a meeting of the Pastors and Ministers of Pittsburgh, held in the First Presbyterian Church on Wednesday afternoon, the 12th inst., the undersigned were appointed a committee to call the attention of your Honor to the prevalence of exhibiting, at different places in the city, corrupting pictorial advertisements and periodicals, and to respectfully suggest, in the name of the Christian Churches, the enforcement of the law relating to the subject.

We need not say to your Honor that the exhibition of such pictures is exercising a very pernicious influence on the minds and hearts of our young people.

Believing that your sympathies are for the peace and harmony of the community at large, we feel confident that our petition, as above, will receive due consideration at your hands.

The report was adopted, and Revs. Douglas and Clark appointed to present it to the Mayor.

MAYOR BRUSH ENDORSED.

Dr. Brown suggested that some action should be taken in endorsement of the course of Mayor Brush in endeavoring to suppress worldly traffic on the Sabbath.

Mr. Cree, from the Young Men's Christian Association, stated the matter had come before the Board and they had decided to originate a paper signed, if possible, by every business man in the city, in endorsement of the Mayor's course. That official expected the moral support of the community, and with the business support also, he could succeed perfectly in his laudable exertions.

Dr. Brown offered the following resolution:

Resolved, That this meeting express its high satisfaction with the efforts Mayor Brush is now making to suppress all traffic on the Lord's day, and pledge him all the moral support in our power to enable him to carry out his purpose.

The resolution was unanimously adopted.

The meeting then adjourned.

—A member of Gen. G. H. Thomas' army repaired to his headquarters, at Louisville, on Tuesday, to present him with a magnificent silver service, but the General declined its acceptance, on the ground that he had determined never to receive a donation under any circumstances.

The Pittsburgh Gazette.

TO A POLITICAL OPPONENT.

BY GEORGE D. PRENTICE.

I send thee, Greeley, words of cheer,
Thou bravest, truest, best of men;
For I have marked thy strong career,
As traced by thy own sturdy pen;
I've seen thy struggles with the foes
That dared thee to the desperate fight,
And loved to watch thy goodly blows
Dealt for the cause thou deem'st the right.

Thou'st dared to stand against the wrong
When many faltered by thy side;
In thy own strength hast dared be strong,
Nor on another's arm relied.
Thy own bold thoughts thou'st dared to think,
To by own great purposes avowed;
And none have ever seen thee shrink
From the fierce surges of the crowd.

Thou, all unaided and alone,
Didst take thy way in life's young years,
With no kind hand clasped in thy own,
No gentle voice to soothe thy tears.
But thy high heart no power could tame,
And thou hast never ceased to feel
Within thy veins a sacred flame
That turned thy iron nerves to steel.

I know that thou art not exempt
From all the weaknesses of earth,
For passion comes to rouse and tempt
The truest souls of mortal birth.
But thou hast well fulfilled thy trust,
In spite of hope and love and fear,
And e'en the tempest's thunder-gust
But clears thy spirit's atmosphere.

Thou still art in thy manhood's prime,
Still foremost 'mid thy fellow-men,
Though in each year of all thy time
Thou hast compressed three score and ten.
Oh, may each blessed sympathy,
Breathed on thee with a tear and sigh,
A sweet flower in thy pathway be,
A bright star in thy clear blue sky.

—At Attleborough, Mass., a kind-hearted gentleman has made provisions for the comfort of the elderly ladies who spend the intermission at church, by furnishing them with tea, sugar and milk, and all the apparatus necessary to a social cup for dinner.

A contemporary hopes those patriots who are just now so anxious to get the country into another war, on account of Cuba or the Alabama Claims, will not attempt to dodge the conscription when it breaks out; or cry out against the taxes; or deal in shoddy and try to get contracts.

—The men who will never die are the man who voted for Washington, the man who first nominated Grant, the oldest Freemason, the last soldier of the Revolution, Jefferson's body servant, the oldest American actor, and the man who originated the idea of the Pacific railway.

—Sergeant Bates seems to be stupid enough to actually believe that people want to see him, and so he has been exhibiting himself in his uniform in Milwaukee. Half the people never heard of Bates, and most of those who did can't remember in what particular way it is alleged he made an ass of himself.

—At Jacksonville, a few days ago, a man had in his possession a grub worm brought from Missouri, which, though itself dead, had a live plant growing out of its body. The plant was quite long, and seemed likely to become a shoot for a forest tree. It is supposed the worm ate the seed and died, whereupon the seed took life and grew.

—A fashion paper in Paris, edited by ladies, says that American ladies are no longer the favorites of good society that they used to be. Too many ill-bred American women have recently made their appearance there, and by their impertinent and indiscreet conduct, have done a great deal of harm to the whole class of their country-women.

—There is a song called "The Moon is Out To-night, Love," which bothers us to know whether darkness or light has been gained thereby. If it was out, in one sense, it would probably give a good deal of light; but, then, if you want to have things dark you put out the gas, and if the moon was out in that sense, why, it was probably told to the before-mentioned love in order to warn her against mud puddles, and the like.

—With reference to that "golden spike" which was yesterday driven formally into the tie, the New York Herald asks: "How long will it take the crowd that assembles where the last spike is driven in the Pacific Railroad to disperse? How long will each person linger in hopes to be the last?" Rev. P. V. Nasby, having failed some time ago to get the contents of the corner stone, must be well watched until some one else gets the spikes.

—Several receipts are now offered as sovereign remedies for hydrophobia. Elecampane is one of these. Another, published in the Leipziger Zeitung, is to bathe the wound in warm water and vinegar, and when that has dried pour a few drops of muriatic acid on the wound. The mad stone it is claimed was successfully applied in Terre Haute, extracting a spoonful of poison; and the Indianapolis Journal says that Dr. Fry of that city has successfully treated several desperate cases by administering bromide of potassium, increasing the doses to two ounces per day.

Assassination in Georgia.

The N. Y. Tribune's Atlanta (Ga.) correspondent, says: Hon. Joseph Adkins, Republican Senator from the Nineteenth District, was assassinated in Warren county, this State, on Monday. He had been frequently warned not to enter the county, though it was his birth-place and his home. Paying no attention to threats he started for home a few days ago. On arriving at Deering Station, eight miles from his residence, his carriage met him, and in it he proceeded homewards. When within two miles of his house, a man issued from the woods, close by, and saluted Mr. Adkins, who recognized him. The salutation was instantly returned, and was accompanied by the drawing and presenting of the assassin's pistol. The fellow took aim and fired at the Senator's heart, the ball killing him instantly. Mr. Adkins was a staunch Republican, had been many years a Baptist minister, and bore an irreproachable private character. Political animosity alone could have prompted his assassination. He was one of the delegation of Georgians who visited President Grant some weeks ago to urge a fully legal reconstruction for his State. He is the second Republican member of the Legislature and second of that delegation murdered since the adjournment of Congress. He, like Dr. Ayre, has perished by the wayside, as recommended by a so called Republican paper of this city.

Laying the Last Rail.

A dispatch from the point of junction of the Pacific Railways gives the following account of the formal placing of the last rail: The ceremony was witnessed by the principal officers of both companies and about two hundred invited guests. The entire number of employes and guests did not probably exceed one thousand.

After exchanging congratulations, while the laborers of the Union Pacific and Chinamen of the Central were employed in arranging the tracks for the last rail, and before proceeding with this ceremony, the Rev. Dr. Todd offered up a prayer, asking the favor of heaven upon the enterprise.

This was followed by the speech of Dr. Harkness, of California, in presenting Governor Stanford with the spike of gold, This was replied to by Governor Stanford in a few appropriate remarks.

Then the two last rails were laid, opposite each other. Wires were so arranged that the City Hall bell at San Francisco was struck at every stroke of the hammer, and the last stroke discharged cannon connected at San Francisco in electrical circuit. The lines east were also placed in connection, to report every stroke at Omaha, Chicago, New York and Boston.

About twelve o'clock the work of driving the last spike commenced, amid the deafening shouts of the multitude. In less than two minutes the great continental highway from ocean to ocean was an accomplished fact.

Through the Washington telegraph office, a connection was made with New Orleans, and the following report is made: The manager adjusted a bell to the instrument in his private office, and notified the various offices that he was ready. New Orleans, thirteen hundred miles distant, instantly responded "ready." New York and a hundred other offices repeated the word "ready." Inquiries from every part of the continent greatly annoyed the Omaha operator, and he shortly responded: "To everybody: Shut up and keep quiet. When the last spike is driven at Promontory Point, they will say 'Done.' Don't break the circuit, but watch for the the signals of the blows of the hammer."

After some little trouble in the Chicago office, and the closing of a circuit west of Buffalo, the instrument here was adjusted, and at 2:27 P. M., Promontory Point, 2,400 miles from Washington, said to the people congregated in the various telegarph offices: "Almost ready; hats off; prayer is being offered." A silence for the prayer ensued.

At 2:40 the bell tapped again, and the office at the point said: "We have got done prayer. The spike is about to be presented." Chicago replied: "We understand; all are ready in the East."

"PROMONTORY POINT.—All ready now; the spike will be driven. The signal will be three dots for the commencement of the blows."

For a moment the instrument was silent; then the hammer of the magnet tapped the ball one—two—three—the signal. Another pause of a few seconds. The lightning came flashing eastward, vibrating over twenty-four hundred miles to Washington, and the blows of the hammer upon the spike were measured in telegraphic accents of the bell here.

At 2:47 P. M., Promontory Point gave the signal, "Done!" and the continent was bound in iron.

Cunning of the Fox.

A hunter, who was one morning keeping watch in the forest, saw a fox cautiously making his approach toward the stump of an old tree. When sufficiently near, he took a high and determined jump on to the top of it, and, after looking round a while, hopped to the ground again. After Reynard had repeated this knightly exercise several times, he went his way, but presently returned to the spot, bearing a pretty heavy piece of dry oak in his mouth, and thus burdened, and as it would seem for the purpose of testing his vaulting powers, he renewed his leaps on to the stump. After a time, however, and when he found that, weighted as he was, he could make the ascent with facility, he desisted from further efforts, dropped the piece of wood from his mouth, and coiling himself upon the top of the stump, remained motionless as if dead. At the approach of evening, an old sow and her progeny, five or six in number, issued from a neighboring thicket, and pursuing their usual track, passed near to the stump in question. Two of her sucklings followed somewhat behind the rest, and just as they neared his ambush, Michel, with the rapidity of thought, darted down from his perch upon one of them, and in the twinkling of an eye, bore it in triumph on to the fastness he had so providentially prepared beforehand. Confounded at the shrieks of her offspring, the old sow returned in fury to the spot, and until late in the night made repeated desperate attempts to storm the murderer's stronghold; but the fox took the matter coolly, and devoured the pig under the very nose of its mother.—Naturalist in Norway.

THE little town of Hatfield, Massachusetts, is fairly crazed over its recent elopement. Allis, who captured and married Miss Cutter, the day before the one set for her to wed another man, is a silk peddler, who had for several months made Mr. Cutter's hotel his headquarters while selling goods in the towns adjoinings. The outwitted lover, Mr. Jeffers, is an organ builder, employed at New Haven, and has a name for goodness and bravery. Allis played his game sharp. On Tuesday morning he started out, ostensibly on a trip to make sales, and to the question, "Are you not going to attend the wedding to-morrow?" said, "No, I guess not." His valise at that moment contained some of the girl's finery instead of silks, and he went at once to see the Hatfield clerk, of whom he secured a marriage certificate. A private conveyance then took him to Northampton, where he met his Florence. At the station they intentionally took no notice of each other, but each took the cars for Springfield. Married in that city in the afternoon, they reached Williamsburg in the evening. The next dav they sought his father's residence in Goshen. At the same hour the runaways were married, Jeffers obtained of the Hatfield clerk a certificate to marry the same girl! Both documents were executed under his own hand, but he "kept whist" until the elopement was known. Jeffers took his bad luck to heart for a day or two, but rallied on Friday and cheerily remarked that he wished a good breakfast and would light the fire to draw the tea with fifty letters written to him by Florence. He left to visit friends and then return to New Haven, where he had a house hired and furnished for the false one. Shortly after he took the cars, the capturer drove up to see the old folks and pay the girl's bills.

DR. WHITTIER

CONTINUES TO TREAT ALL private diseases. Syphilis in all its forms, Gonorrhea, Gleet, Stricture, Orchitis, and all urinary diseases, and the effects of mercury are completely eradicated; Spermatorrhea or Seminal Weakness and Impotency, resulting from self-abuse or other causes, and which produces some of the following effects, as blotches, bodily weakness, indigestion, consumption, aversion to society, unmanliness, dread of future events, loss of memory, indolence, nocturnal emissions, and finally so prostrating the sexual system as to render marriage unsatisfactory, and therefore imprudent, are permanently cured. Persons afflicted with these or any other delicate, intricate or long standing constitutional complaint should give the Doctor a trial; he never fails.

A particular attention given to all Female complaints, Leucorrhea or Whites, Falling, Inflammation or Ulceration of the Womb, Ovaritis, pruritis, Amenorrhoea, Menorrhagia, Dysmenorrhoea, and Sterility or Barrenness, are treated with the greatest success.

It is evident that a physician who confines himself exclusively to the study of a certain class of diseases and treats thousands of cases every year must acquire greater skill in that specialty than one in general practice.

The Doctor publishes a medical pamphlet of fifty pages that gives a full exposition of venereal and private diseases, that can be had free at office or by mail for two stamps, in sealed envelopes. Every sentence contains instruction to the afflicted, and enabling them to determine the precise nature of their complaints.

The establishment, comprising ten ample rooms, is central. When it is not convenient to visit the city, the Doctor's opinion can be obtained by giving a written statement of the case, and medicines can be forwarded by mail or express. In some instances, however, a personal examination is absolutely necessary, while in others daily personal attention is required, and for the accommodation of such patients there are apartments connected with the office that are provided with every requisite that is calculated to promote recovery, including medicated vapor baths. All prescriptions are prepared in the Doctor's own laboratory, under his personal supervision. Medical pamphlets at office free, or by mail for two stamps. No matter who have failed, read what he says. Hours 9 A. M. to 8 P. M. Sundays 12 M. to 2 P. M. Office, No. 9 WYLIE STREET, (near Court House,) Pittsburgh, Pa.

CATTLE.

The market has been dull and a little weak thus far this week, and compared with last week prices, if anything, are a shade lower. The very best nice, smooth shipping steers, which last week sold at 8¼@8½, would not bring over eight cents this week, and even at that there were but few buyers. Most of the cattle sent to New York last week lost considerable money, coming in on one of the worst markets experienced this season, and shippers being apprehensive of another hard market next week took hold cautiously, and, as a general thing, refused to buy unless concessions were made. New York buyers complained bitterly about cattle being entirely too high for them and some of them insinuated that they would be able to force a considerable decline between this and Saturday, otherwise, they expressed a determination not to buy. Private telegrams from New York, to-day, reported that market even worse than it was on Monday. There is one thing that tended to favor buyers, the supply was rather limited, and the arrivals thus far have been very light.

SHEEP.

The market for this class of stock has been moderately active thus far this week, with a good delegation of buyers both from Philadelphia and New York, but prices, compared with last week, are lower, and unless there is a material falling off in the arrivals, it is expected that they will decline still further. The very best fat sheep did not command over 6 cts, and there were but very few sold at that, 5½ being a fair quotation for good shipping grades. Fair to medium sold at 4½@5, and "scalawags" at 3½@4. The daily sales since the date of our last report were as follows:

May	5.....	5,659 head.
"	6.....	2,262 "
"	7.....	1,717 "
"	8.....	248 "
"	10.....	1,747 "
"	11.....	2,481 "

HOGS.

The Hog market has been more active, and compared with last week prices are higher. We now quote Philadelphia Hogs at 10@10¼, and Yorkers at 9@9¼. The hot weather of the past few days is not calculated to help the Hog trade, as the demand for fresh pork usually diminishes materially during the Summer months. The following is a report of the daily sales.

May	5.....	2,044 head.
"	6.....	1,332 "
"	7.....	1,291 "
"	8.....	1,066 "
"	10.....	1,099 "
"	11.....	835 "

PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, WEDNESDAY, May 13, 1869.

The oil market presents but little that is really new or important. It is said that the trouble in regard to freights is likely to be settled, amicably and satisfactorily to all concerned, and this, of course, has a tendency to infuse hopes of renewed life and activity in the business, though there is still one obstacle in the way; there is not enough difference between the price of Crude and Refined to admit of a matgin to the refininer. If Crude would only drop a cent or two more without taking Refined with it, it is quite probable that quite a number of refineries, which have been lying idle for several months, would start up again, and that the business will get into a satisfactory and legitimate shape once more: get back to where it was a year or two ago, and where it should be now.

CRUDE—The Crude market was again unusually active to-day, the reported sales aggregating, over 12,000 bbls, and while a number of these were settlements, there were also, we are assured, several straight sales. Spot or sellers option, may be quoted at 14, while buyer's option, from July to October, sold at 16. There was a sale of seller to July made, and, according to report, a tender of the oil was made in about two minutes after the sale had been closed. Sales in lots of 4,000 bbls, seller to July at 14; 2,000 spot at 14; 1,000 June, seller, at 11¼; and 1,000 each July August and September, at 15½. with $600 for privilege of calling, 2,500, July to October, buyer, at 16.

REFINED—The Refined market is moderately active and a little excited, without, however, any improvement in prices. Sale 500 last half July, at 33¼; 1,000 all year, buyer, at 35½; and two lines of 500 each July to December, at 33½. May quoted at 32¼ for last half; June 32¼ bid, 32½ asked; July, 33¼ bid, 33¼ asked, and July to December 33½.

RIVER NEWS.

The river continues to recede steadily, with five feet two inches in the channel by the Monongahela marks last evening. Weather yesterday was oppressively hot, but in the evening the sky was overcast with indications of rain. Thermometer at noon was up to 83, the highest point it has touched yet.

There has been no arrivals since the date of our last report, with the exception of the regular packets.

The Tom Farrow and barges were to have left for St. Louis last evening.

The St. Marys did not get off until late Tuesday night, and she was so unfortunate as to run aground at Glass House, and she was still there yesterday morning. She would doubtless be lightened off early in the day.

The R. C. Gray, Capt. Isaac Whittaker, is announced to leave for Cincinnati and Louisville on Saturday.

The Emma No. 3, Capt. J. H. Marratta, takes her departure for New Orleans today, and passengers and shippers should bear this in mind. The Emma is an excellent craft and offers superior inducements to passengers.

The Camelia, Capt. T. H. Golding, with Geo. Splane in the office, is announced for Nashville forthwith.

—The Leonidas left Cincinnati for Pittsburgh on Monday with about 400 tons. Pilots—Oakes and Hamilton.

—A telegram to the Cincinnati Commercial under date of Monday says: All the coal fleet have arrived, except the Tigress and Ella. The Ajax departed South with 25 barges. The Panther goes to night. Tows are being put over the falls for the Stella and Horner. The Argosy passed down.

—Jas. Anderson, second mate of the steamer Virginia, had one leg broken and the other badly bruised while that boat was taking on hay below on the Lower Ohio. He was taken to Louisville.

—A St. Louis telegram under date of Monday says: Information has been received here that the steamer John D. Perry burned at Duvall's Bluffs, Arkansas, two or three days ago. She was valved at $15,000, and insured for $10,000.

—The Grey Eagle, which capsized last night, was valued at $6,000.

—We find the following in the Memphis Avalanche, of Saturday: Capt. Jack Chambers, late clerk of the Caldwell, has opened a velocipede rink at Hot Springs. Jack is a clever, sociable gentleman, and will give the right kind of entertainment to the guests of Hot Springs. Jack has given up pine-top and gone to drinking hot water.

—The Cincinnati Gazette says: Among the passengers down on the Ohio No. 4 yesterday, was Captain Hiram Burch, who, it will be remembered, was pilot of the Harry Dean at the time she exploded her boilers. Capt. Burch has entirely recovered from his injuries, and visits the city for the first time since that lamentable occurrence.....We also clip the following from the same paper: Messrs. Kendall, Morgan and James Kirker, who went out in the Arkansas river steamer Ft. Gibson—the former as clerk and the latter as mate—returned yesterday on the Darling, because the salaries paid them were not adequate to the labor necessary to be performed.

—The Yallobusha river and the Abetuponbuge are higher now than they have been known to be for years. The whole valley is under water, and presents a magnificent sight to behold from the pine hills around the city. So says the Grenada Sentinel.

—The tug We Come to Stay was sold at New Orleans, last week, for $7,500.

—ST. LOUIS, May 10.—About 11 o'clock last night the old towboat Grey Eagle sprung a leak, and capsized near Stag Island, in the Mississippi, about 75 miles above here. Patrick Hall, the pilot, and Henry Clerges and James Sams, raftsmen, are supposed to have been drowned. The boat was going up the river with a party of raftsmen and hands on board, all of whom and the crew lost everything they had.

The Artificial Limb Manufacturing Co.

CHARTERED BY THE STATE OF PENNA.

All Shareholders are Men Wearing the Limbs Made by the Company.

To those requiring a limb we would say that our own experience has induced us to establish a factory here that would make a comfortable and durable limb for a reasonable price. After trying a number of solid socket and padded socket legs, we have each found more comfort and usefulness in this "ADJUSTABLE LACEING SOCKET" than in any other made in the country. One of our number, a skilled mechanic, has charge of the shop. We have bought the right to use two of the best patents, and by our experience we hope to improve in every way that will add to the comfort, durability or appearance of the limbs we make. We have put the price of our new legs at $80. Persons from a distance are only detained in the city while the measure and a cast of the injured limb is taken.

The saving to purchasers, as compared with Eastern prices, is from $20 to $95 in the price of legs; at least $26 railroad fare, hotel bills and other traveling expenses, and then we are satisfied that our limb will give better satisfaction than any one made in New York or Philadelphia. If we can get orders, we can maintain our factory at the above price, and we therefore ask an examination before going elsewhere.

We make to order and keep on hand a supply of stockings, braces, and appliances for injured or deformed limbs, also, crutches, trusses, shoulder braces, &c. For further information or circular, containing many testimonial letters from those who have worn our artificial limbs, address ARTIFICIAL LIMB MANUFACTURING CO., or, 503 PENN STREET, between Thirteenth and Fourteenth, Pittsburgh, Pa. ap13:h35 TTHT

PETROLEUM at Antwerp, 51¼f.

U. S. BONDS at Frankfort, 84½.

GOLD closed in New York yesterday at 137¾.

THE anthracite coal miners of Pennsylvania have inaugurated only a partial strike. The Lehigh and Schuylkill men are out, but those of Luzerne decline to participate. If the latter should continue at work, the strike elsewhere must soon terminate.

WE ARE indebted to one of the most skillful physicians of this city for the contribution, which we print elsewhere, affording valuable popular information as to the prompt treatment of cases of poisoning by belladonna or stramonium. The article is suggested by a recent melancholy occurrence in Allegheny.

FROM Philadelphia, we hear that Cuban fillibusters have bought the old rebel iron-clad steam ram Atlanta, from our Government, and that she has been removed from the League Island anchorage to a city dock for needful repairs. Having fair notice of the fact, our authorities cannot permit this formidable craft to go to sea, without a palpable violation of their own orders as now enforced at New York.

RUSSIA is considering a plan for the reorganization of the Roman Catholic Church within its boundaries. It is not improbable that the Greek Church will be met in the spirit of conciliation by that of Rome, and that the faint line of distinction which divides the two great religious bodies will be wiped out, and the former communion absorbed in the latter. This is an end devoutly hoped for by Roman Catholics, and we would not be surprised should it be consummated.

IN PROVIDENCE, Rhode Island, the SPRAGUE stock went down so low that the candidate for Mayor representing the little Senatorial monomaniac's peculiar politics was compelled to withdraw from the field, fearing that he could not obtain a corporal's guard in his support. SPRAGUE will soon realize that he mistakes his strength in the plantation he represents in the United States Senate. Henceforth he is a cipher in the political circles of his State, and once out of the service, will never again rise to the exalted position he undeservedly now enjoys.

SENATOR SPRAGUE finds his contract, to run the State of Rhode Island, altogether in his own interests, a larger and more troublesome business than he had anticipated. His man Friday, candidate for re-election as Mayor of Providence, was forced to abandon the track on Tuesday—and that was only the first of the disasters which are accumulating over the foolish Senator's head. His scandalous impeachment of the valor of the Rhode Islanders during the rebellion has awakened a general resolution to make, of the coming memorial day, a funereal ceremony which shall forever bury, in a political death, the libeller of the fallen soldiers of the State. His friend JOHNSON can do the Senator no good by hastening to his relief. The unfortunate man's case is past all hope.

FOR no small share of the damage inflicted by the Alabama and other rebel privateers upon American commerce during the late war, the country was indebted to the stupid ignorance and official sluggishness of the Tite Barnacle who ruled the Navy Department. More than once, information was laid before Mr. WELLES which would have enabled any Secretary of ordinary discretion and energy to have headed off these cruisers, and especially the Alabama, by despatching fast-sailing steamers, to the points for which that sea-rover was known to be aiming. The Secretary did send several vessels to intercept her, but always too late. He seemed to know nothing of navigation or geography, or even that the world was round, and his daily official career throughout the rebellion was an endless series of blunders, which neutralized the skill and valor of our sailors, made the service contemptible, and inflicted a loss upon our maratime interests which the youngest of us may not live to see wholly repaired. It will surprise no one to learn that he closed his official experience with sending a public ship, drawing eleven feet of water, to transport his household effects to his home on the Connecticut river—with a bar at its mouth carrying only six feet of water at the top of the tide. It was in the same skillful way that he suffered the Alabama to cost somebody an hundred million of dollars.

RAILWAY ITEMS.

On the Sunday which witnessed the completion of the Pacific Railway connection, a second line of rails was finished between its eastern terminus, at Omaha, and Chicago. The Rock Island road now competes with the North Western for the through business across the continent, each of them making the five hundred miles of distance, from Chicago to the common point at Omaha, in eighteen hours. Nor will railway rivalry be satisfied with the two lines. The public will require, and will secure, the early construction of additional connections from Omaha eastward, and without the needless detour towards Lake Michigan.

By the proposed Southern Railway the Cincinnatians can reach Dalton, in Georgia, by way of Knoxville, in 406 miles, of which only 152 are to build; by way of Emory River in 380 miles, with 203 miles to build; by way of Chattanooga in 393 miles, with 246 miles to be constructed. Dalton is admitted to be a common point to be arrived at in whatever decision. What is known as the military line, that by Emory River, is regarded with the most general favor, and its construction is quite within the control of the city—provided the course of popular and legal opinion shall run smoothly.

The new consolidated "Lake Shore and Michigan Southern Railway Company" has a total alignment of 845 miles, including the main line from Erie to Chicago and branches. The thirteen directors of the company are to be chosen at Cleveland, June 2d.

The Dunkirk and Warren road drags. The New York end is nearly graded, but our Warren County friends are doing nothing for their ten miles. There can be no State aid from New York, and the project wears, now, the look of an indefinite suspension.

Canadian Engineers have recently given the most flattering testimony as to the superiority of American re-rolled rails, over the new English importations. It seems that Canada shares alike in the complaints now universal, against the English article—and in the equally general impression, that a better article is always to be had from a near-by manufacturer, other things being equal.

CITY PASSENGER RAILWAYS.

The Philadelphia Inquirer has a long and interesting article on this subject, from which we glean the following:

In 1829 Mr. Robert A. PARRISH obtained a charter to run a line of railroad from the Delaware to the Schuylkill along the line of Willow street in the city of Philadelphia, for the purpose of transporting passengers and freight. The carriages for passengers were like the old fashioned stage coaches, were drawn by horses and were for some time very popular, but the novelty wore off, and the line was not quick or regular, for the freight cars interfered and the passenger traffic of the road was finally dropped. Thus passenger horse railways were begun in the same year that the first steam locomotive drew trains in England, and six or seven years before the introduction of the less convenient omnibusses, which for a while reigned supreme.

But Mr. Parrish did not give up the idea that street horse-railways were bound to be a useful and available invention; he exerted himself again and again but in vain to get legislation to empower him to carry out his plans. In 1850 he applied for the first time to the Philadelphia City Councils for permission to build what is at present known as the Second and Third street road. Every species of objection were thrown in his way; others seized his idea, and two roads were built in New York, and one actually in Philadelphia before he was enabled to realize his own plans.

This is a short, and we believe an accurate history of the conception and introduction of that useful adjunct to modern American civilization; and now there are probably at least $100,000,000 of capital in this country invested in them. In Philadelphia the taxes of the companies alone amount to more than $40,000, and it has been estimated that suburban real property in that city must have been enhanced at least $100,000,000. Here, in Pittsburgh, their value has been very great, not proportionately to those of Philadelphia, for in that level city of right angles their construction is easy, and the cost of their support much less than here; but nevertheless Manchester, Lawrenceville and Birmingham probably owe much of their growth to their ease of access from the central portions of the city.

REPUBLICAN PROGRESS.

We had occasion, yesterday, to speak of the growing inclination of the friends of the Union, in all of the late rebel States, to relax at the earliest practicable moment, the restrictive power which the success of the Federal policy enabled them to apply, not without the temporary justification of necessity, to the conquered enemies of the Union, at the termination of the war. In Virginia, Missouri and Tennessee, as throughout all the South, the wisest of our friends have come to agree that these restrictions have fully accomplished all that was to be reasonably expected from the policy—the effectual exclusion of the traitorous element from any participation in the work of repairing the mischief which they were wholly responsible for inflicting upon the Republic. It was very naturally and properly held, in 1865, and for the three subsequent years, to be right that the business of reconstruction should be wholly incumbent upon the loyal portion of the people of those States, and that such citizens as had been prominent in resistance to the Federal authority should be content for the present with back seats. And this policy was effectually enforced by depriving the latter of all political rights whatsoever.

The policy of exclusion has accomplished all that we expected from it, and it should end with the causes which existed for its justification. Reconstruction is complete, in every political sense, in eight of the eleven States which attempted secession, and it only remains to remove the no longer needful restrictions to which we alluded, to perfect the entire popular restoration to the legal and original status of full civic rights. In a ninth State, Virginia, the delay of reconsiruction has resulted at last in an absolute certainty of its ea completion, by the consenting aid of all classes of its people, who are to decide for themselves, at the same time, for or against the continuance of the present political disabilities of a part of them—and they are likely to discard the restrictive policy altogether. In two other States, Texas and Mississippi, the same issues are likely to be decided, during this year, in the same year. The States of Missouri and West Virginia were not participants in the rebellion as States, but their populations were divided by the most hostile animosities, and their territories were the theatre of many of the sharpest conflicts of the war. These States, with Tennessee, maintained their practical relations to the Union, as States, unbroken, and that necessarily means that their governments were controlled by the Republican adherents to the Federal government. With these States, the sharpest and most stringent policy, in excluding the rebels from all political rights whatever, was justifiable as a war-measure, if upon no other grounds. We need not say that it was adopted accordingly—and to the uttermost extreme of which the situation admitted. Yet these three States are at this moment ready to recognize the progress of events, and to meet the growing loyalty of feeling and the heartiness of submission to the greater results of the conflict, among their lately rebel citizens, by abrogating, at the earliest possible moment, every invidious distinction of political status among their populations, and by restoring an equality of citizenship to all, irrespective of race, color or past ill-deserts. We know that Tennessee would do this to-morrow, if some of the embers of the rebellion's baleful fires were not still fanned alive by a few mischief-makers of the Johnson type. In Missouri, the movement toward an universal amnesty has already enlisted the good-will of the wisest loyalists of that State. And now comes West Virginia, with its best friends of the Union urging the immediate need for a policy of liberal conciliation, upon the people and the State authorities. The question, says the Wheeling Intelligencer, can not be ignored; it presses and must be met—and without delay. From 10,000 to 25,000 of their citizens are at present under political disabilities, for their share in the rebellion. The rebel power is broken, not only politically but morally; it can never be revived, because it is already dead at the heart. The need for these disabilities exists no longer, and every consideration of a wise public policy requires that they should be swept clean from the statute-book. Statesmanship is but an elevated and broad recognition of the dictates of a plain common sense. And the popular common-sense, in all of these States, points with an unerring unison precisely in that direction, the removal of the last needless trace—and any trace whatever is now a needless and unjustifiable source for irritation,—of a great struggle, which nothing but its own rich political and social results can prevent the lover of his country from mourning forever.

In West Virginia, and perhaps in other States, the day of amnesty can only be provided for by an amendment of the Constitution. But in whatever mode it may be secured, it is evident that the popular feeling supports the new policy, which is certain to be inaugurated, in each and all of those States which were touched with the withering curse of a fraternal strife, before the close of Gen. GRANT'S administration. And that will be the most successful statesmanship, the wisest and truest Republicanism, which shall hit upon the shortest, speediest and most effectual way of securing once more the political brotherhood of every citizen alike.

Washington Items.

Senator Trumbull left for Illinois today a dissapointed man. He has secured little or no important patronage from the Administration, and attributes the fact to his vote against the impeachment of Andrew Johnson. The President is inexorable on that point, and favors no man who held office under Johnson or voted against his impeachment.

It is believed that Senator Sumner and others have finally influenced the President against the appointment of Gen. Sickles as Minister to Spain. The name of William Cullen Bryant has been mentioned for the place, but if the President appointed him it is doubtful if Mr. Bryant would accept.

The Secretary of the Treasury has prepared a statement of our public debt on the first of March, similar in form to those issued for April and May. It shows that the debt when Grant's administration came into power was $2,525,463,260, and that in one month it has been reduced $6,665,869. Nearly the whole of this reduction was in April, and the present indications are that the reduction in this month will be more than in both the preceding months.

Mr. Motley, the new Minister to England, is, it appears, to receive some written instructions of a general character in reference to the resumption of negotiations for the settlement of the pending questions between this country and Great Britain. It is stated that they will be very brief, and cover not so much what the present Administration would be willing to consider satisfactory of the Alabama difficulty, as what it would be sure to reject. Mr. Motley will sail from New York on the 19th inst.

Secretary Boutwell desires it to be understood that in issuing the order for the purchase of bonds, the bonds so purchased are not to be set aside as a sinking fund, and that it has no connection whatever with that matter. His purpose is simply to use the surplus money in the Treasury to purchase the six per cent. gold bonds in order to stop the interest. It is not his intention to cancel the bonds, but to allow them to remain in the Treasury. It may become necessary for the Department to dispose of them again, if there should be a falling off in the receipts. Respecting the carrying out of the Sinking Fund law, no conclusion has yet been reached.

When that excellent gentleman, the Hon. Gideon Welles, retired from the government of the Navy, he was a good deal bothered about the expense of moving his furniture and baggage back to Hartford. The franking privilege not being quite elastic enough to cover his case, he was permitted to take one of the Government vessels. Who permitted him—whether he did it himself, or his successor—we are not informed; but the vessel was loaded, and off the gallant old salt sailed for the Connecticut river. When he got there he found that vessels drawing more than six feet of water could not get into the Connecticut river, whereas his drew eleven! Mr. Welles had never been so much astonished in his life. His chagrin was only equaled by the Vicar of Wakefield's when that delightful person found that he had ordered a portrait so big that he could not get it into the house. The result of it all was that Mr. Welles had to go beating along the coast until he found water enough at New London to float his goods, and thence he sent them home by rail, at just double the cost of shipping them from Washington in the regular way. It may seem rather singular that a gentleman who had been eight years Secretary of the Navy should not know something about the depth of water on Saybrook bar, and still more singular that he should send a vessel on a voyage without inquiring whether she could possibly get into her port of destination. But then Mr. Welles always was a very remarkable man.

Pacific Railroad Finances.

The paid and accrued interest, up to the first of this month, on the Pacific Railroad bonds issued by the Government was $4,440,411, of which amount the roads had refunded $1,380,438, leaving $3,059,983 charged against them on the books of the Treasury. The original railroad act of 1862 gave the Government a first lien on the road for bonds and interest, but in the act of 1863 this was changed, so that the Government gets only a second lien. Not one of the roads has paid a cent of money as interest, their entire credit being for mail service, transportation and other work. They rendered their accounts, and the amount found to be due to them is credited as reimbursement of interert. The figures show that the Union Pacific has reimbursed but about one-third of its interest; the Eastern Division about two-thirds; the California Pacific only about one-twenty-fifth, and the Sioux City only sixteen dollars out of over $80,000. The law provides that all companies shall reimburse their interest, but fails to provide any way for its immediate collection if not paid, though it could probably be obtained by suit in Court. Most of the roads now have accounts against the Government passing through the Auditing officee of the Treasury, and when these are credited up to the various roads, the showing against them will not be so bad as it is now.

AN English journal contains the following commentary on the fate of greatness: "The Countess of Mornington, widow of the notorious William Pole Tylney Long Wellesley, Earl of Mornington, who died recently in her 76th year, adds an incident to the romance of the peerage. After the ruin into which the reckless Earl's affairs fell, some forty years ago, this lady was for a brief time an inmate of St. George's workhouse, and more than once had to apply at police courts for temporary relief. Yet she might have called monarchs "cousins" She was descended from the grandest and greatest of all the Plantagenets. Her mother (wife of Col. Patterson) Ann Porterfield, of that ilk, came through Boyd, Cunningham, Glencairn and Hamilton, from Mary Stuart, daughter of King James the Second of Scotland, and seventh in descent from Edward the First of England. The carldom of Mornington, extinct in the elder line of the Wellesleys, has lapsed to the Duke of Wellington.

TO CURE THE TOOTHACHE.—Saturate a piece of clean cotton wool with a strong solution of ammonia, and apply immediately to the affected tooth. The relief is instantaneous, and elevates the patient from the depths of despair to the heights of bliss. Remember it!

Enterprise vs. Luck.

When allusion is made in our social circles to those who have risen through their own individual exertions to positions of honorable eminence and wealth, how apt is the expression, "It was good luck." Without regard to what may be the many fine qualities, the indomitable perseverance and determination of character, or the thousand and one struggles and failures to obtain a foothold on fortune's road, future success and prosperity is invariably attributed to that "luck." Never was a word more grossly misapplied—man may have luck in speculation, in the barter of goods or in the inheritance of a fortune, but to the young beginner with scanty means, unknown credit, and few if any friends, luck would indeed be a sad and fatal dependance. If after a brief struggle his efforts should prove in vain and he should quietly await fortune to favor him, the result is easily imagined. It is not luck that enables such a one to prosper. It is pluck, energy and unswerving determination to succeed and triumph in spite of obstacles and discouragements. Disappointed to-day he tries again to-morrow, and the next week and the next month, and even for years he may toil and battle ere he achieves victory and wins success.

As an illustration of fortune honorably won through continued perseverance and industrious application, we can instance a no more marked case than that of Dr. J. H. Schenck, of Philadelphia. All our readers are fully aware of the well deserved popularity of his "Seaweed Tonic," his "Pulmonic Syrup," and his "Mandrake Pills," but few are probably acquainted with their early history and the discouraging failures and repeated attempts to introduce them to the public. Thirty years ago, Doctor Schenck, a lingering consumptive on the borders of the grave, given up to die by his attending physician, discovered his wonderful remedy, the Pulmonic Syrup, which saved him, restored his health and made his life strong and earnest to save others from the same destroyer; and it is a vital, living, experimental truth with him to say, that "consumption can be cured." After his, as it seemed almost miraculous recovery, he further tested and proved the saving efficacy of the syrup by administering it freely and gratuitously to his neighbors, and it is safe to say that during these thirty years, hundreds of precious lives have been delivered by it. It stands to-day the champion remedy of the world for Pulmonic Complaints, especially when used in connection with his Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills, and is a proud and noble monument to the indomitable perseverance, industry and energy, that has successfully introduced it into the markets of the world, and made its virtues available to so many thousands of sufferers. Before this desired end was accomplished, however, great were the trials and disappointments encountered. Being possessed of a very small capital, limited acquaintance, and few, if any friends, who were willing to aid him in what they predicted would result unprofitably, the Doctor commenced his work alone. And no meagre task was before him. The preparations being unknown were suspiciously criticised and classed among the many worthless and injurious drugs, which at that day, like the present, were imposed upon the public. The sales were few and the expenses many. The present was discouragement, while the future seemed dark and uncertain; and to those with less energy, the work would have been abandoned in its unfinished state. Not so with the Doctor. Knowing the usefulness and efficiency of what he offered, he labored with renewed energy. Disappointment and ill-success only nerved him to the battle stronger. The demand for his wares slowly increased, their virtues were discovered by the few who gave them a trial, and after years of labor, disappointment and determined persistence, "Schenck's Preparations" have become a familiar word in nearly every home throughout the land. The sales have increased with such remarkable rapidity, that the contrast, when the articles were first manufactured thirty years ago, in a small, narrow and contracted apartment, and their manufacture of to-day in the present large and commodious structure, is most striking indeed. And even the present mammoth laboratory, handsomely constructed, huge tanks, improved machinery and numerous devices to supply the hourly increasing demand, is not sufficient to keep pace with the growing popularity of these remedies, and is to be supplanted by a huge marble building at the Northeast corner of Sixth and Arch streets, which, when erected, will rival in appearance any similar establishment in America.

The efforts of the Doctor have been crowned with reputation and wealth, still in unaffected simplicity of demeaner and true manliness of character, he is the same man of a year ago. With the benfits of a larger experience, he demonstrates more successfully than ever, the curability of that fearful disease, Consumption, which annually sweeps away so many valuable lives, and which so nearly terminated his own. One day we hear of him in this city, another day in that, always administering to the afflicted, who anxiously await his coming.

He has now arrived at that age, fifty-five, when he can and does rationally, enjoy the sweets of a fortune accumulated by his own hands. Surrounded by his family, he has contributed everything that comfort and happiness require. His handsome city residence is the seat of luxuriance and pleasure, while his country retreat, the favorite resort of the Doctor, is unsurpassed, both as regards natural scenery and the many artificial embellishments, completed at a vast outlay of money. The land is beautifully located at Schenck's Station, in Bucks county, about fifteen miles from Philadelphia. To enter into a description of the farm, which comprises some three hundred acres, would require several columns of this paper; the finely cultivated fields are models of farming, and the taste and finish with which they are surrounded please the eye of every beholder. The mansion occupied by the Doctor's family during the summer months, has all the improvements of a modern city residence; the walks are beautifully laid out and the grounds handsomely decorated with flowers and shrubbery; a boat house, a billiard room, a private fish pond and a handsome yacht are among a few of the attractions. The barns are well filled with the products of the farm, which is superintended by the most competent hands, and has been wrought to a high state of productiveness. As in the management of his business, so in the management of this fine place, improvement is the order of the day. Only the choicest breeds of stock, the most improved and desirable machinery for the culture of the land, and the best grain, most tempting fruits and rarest flowers are to be found. Improvements never cease. Workmen are constantly engaged in building new structures or improving the old ones, for it must be remembered that the Doctor can easily devote a few acres of his extensive grounds to improving what is now known as the "Station," but is destined ere long, we predict, to be called "Schencksville." All the spare moments of the Doctor, winter and summer, when not engaged at his place of business, finds him at the farm surrounded by his workmen, taking an active part in all that is being done. He studies the comfort and convenience of his fellow beings as well as his own. One noticeable feature among others, illustrative of this strikes the visitor, is the large clock erected at great expense, on the cupola of the barn; the four large faces looking from each point of the compass, render this an almost indispensable convenience to those residing in that locality. Thus is the time of this man employed. He has no idle moments, his labors are incessant, and it was only such labors, such perseverence, such energy and not that "luck" so often attributed, that made this self-made man what he is to-day, and his memory ever hereafter to be cherished by those who are so fortunate as to be classed among his friends.

Pittsburgh Church Guild.

The following is an abstract of the reports of the Committee on Education, of the Pittsburgh Church Guild, kindly furnished by Wm. M. Metcalf, Secretary.

At the Guild rooms there were ten evening classes, taught by different gentlemen, viz:

Natural philosophy, anatomy; three classes of drawing; lectures on steam engine, arithmetic, geography, German and commercial forms.

One hundred and eighty-four scholars entered, and the average attendance through the Winter was seventy-seven.

The scholars varied in age from sixteen to forty-three years, represented thirty-two different trades and occupations, and came from all parts of the city and neighborhood, some coming six and others eight miles.

The classes were not as large as on the year before, owing to the fact that the presidential election prevented many, who otherwise would have joined the classes.

The Committee has every reason to be satisfied by scholars and teachers in this work, and is determined to push it along still more vigorously next year.

The ladies of the Guild opened a class in St. Peter's Church school rooms for the benefit of girls. Thirty-eight girls, aged from sixteen to twenty-two years, entered the classes nightly and the nightly attendance averaged twenty.

The girls manifested the greatest interest in their studies and were taught reading, writing, spelling, arithmetic, geography and sewing. All but two of them worked for their living and yet were glad to come after their work to try and improve themselves. The ladies feel this work to be of the greatest importance; for to improve the girls is to advance the whole race, and they appeal earnestly to the community to help them, so that they may ultimately have reading room, library and classes for girls as well as for young men. This work, so well begun, will be pushed on in the fall, with, it is hoped, much larger classes.

—The annual meeting of the National Temperance Society was held at New York, yesterday afternoon, the President, Wm. E. Dodge, presiding. The Treasurer reported the total receipts of last year $46,282, expenditures $46,277. Total receipts since formation, three years and five months, $123,951. The following officers for the ensuing year were elected: President, Wm. E. Dodge, and eighty-three Vice Presidents, comprising prominent personages representing nearly every State in the Union and Canada: Treasurer, Thos. T. Hufield; Board of Managers, for three years, Rev. Dr. W. W. Newell, Peter Carter, J. N. Stearns, Rev. Mason Gallagher, James Black, T. T. Sheffield, T. P. Norton, John Falconer, A. S. Hunter and J. R. Sypher.

—There was a meeting of Californians at the Astor House, New York, yesterday, to celebrate the completion of the Pacific Railroad, at which Senator Nye of Nevada, presided and congratulatory resolutions were adopted.

THE REASON WHY

Dr. Keyser's Blood Searcher is the best. It is computed that a man's system undergoes three times a year, that is every four months, a radical and thorough change, that is, that at the end of that time nothing remains in the system of the material of which it was composed before that time. The eliminating organs carry out the worn-out and used-up material, and new matter is made to take its place and carry on the workings of the human organism. The cost of four months treatment in this way would not at the outside be more than ten dollars, and frequently the functions of life have an activity and vigor imparted sufficient to renew them by the use of one bottle, costing only one dollar. No organ of the body but will be benefitted by such a process. The liver, the stomach, the kidneys, the skin, the lungs, are all, as it were, made over again by the impetus given to the stomach and digestive system—old and prostrated people whose systems had begun to languish and decay, have been restored by DR. KEYSER'S BLOOD SEARCHER to youthful health and vigor. Especially is this medicine suitable at this season of the year, when the dormant powers of life, like all the rest of nature are emerging from the chilling and torpid state usual to the cold and wintry months. We know very well that all advertised medicines are apt to be regarded as useless and nugatory, but with DR. KEYSER'S BLOOD SEARCHER we feel perfectly secure in the promise that it must do good. Country merchants and those who supply others with needful things for their wants cannot confer a greater service than to keep a few bottles of this valuable medicine on their shelves to supply their wants. Dr. Keyser will take back every half dozen that remains unsold. It at the same time affords the merchant a good profit, and to those who need it, it is of more value than silver and gold, for what can be of more value to man than a medicine which carries health and life to the suffering invalid?

We earnestly entreat all who read this to try one bottle of Dr. Keyser's Blood Searcher if they need such a medicine, and we will guarantee satisfaction. In order, however, not to be disappointed, let them buy none but that which has Dr. Keyser's name over the cork and blown in the bottle, and in that way the Doctor will hold himself responsible for its results when the directions are closely followed.

DR. KEYSER'S CONSULTATION ROOMS, NO. 120 PENN STREET, FROM 10 A. M. UNTIL 4 P. M.

WHAT IS A TONIC!

Bear this in mind—that although a tonic is, to a certain extent, a stimulant—a stimulant, unmodified by any medicinal substances, is not a tonic, but A DEBILITANT. In HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS there is a stimulating element of the purest grade manufactured in this or any other country. Every fiery and corrosive oil or acid which contaminates the ordinary liquors of commerce, is expelled from the rye spirit which forms the alcoholic basis of the BITTERS, by careful and repeated rectification. The juices of the valuable roots, barks and herbs, infused into this wholesome product of the finest grain, still further modify its nature, so that it becomes, in fact, a simple diffusive agent minus all the heavy and brain exciting properties which belong, more or less, to all liquors in a raw state. It is merely the safe and harmless vehicle which renders the medicinal virtues of the preparation effective—increasing their active power, and diffusing them through the system. Hence the pleasant and gentle glow which is experienced after taking a dose of the BITTERS. Instead of creating headache, as unmedicated stimulants are apt to do, this salubrious tonic is the best known remedy for that complaint. It calms and soothes cerebral excitement, strengthens the nerves, promotes the secretion of the gastric juice, invigorates the bowels, determines the fluids to the surface, improves the appetite, increases the animal vigor, regulates organic action and, from its mild, yet effective, alterative qualities, is the very best preparation that can be administered to the weaker sex in the peculiar difficulties to which their organization subjects them.

EXPENSES:

N. B.—Among purely Mutual Companies that one is cheapest that does its business

THOROUGHLY AT LEAST EXPENSE.

The rate of expenses for the year's business has been, on the total receipts,

982-100 PER CENT.;

ON PREMIUMS ALONE,

1142-100 PER CENT.:

The above wonderful results in the items of expenditure may well be considered in connection with the following extract from the President's Twenty-Fourth Annual Report to the Directors:

"At this time we felicitate ourselves that we have adhered to the mode of distributing surplus and returning premiums to the members which we have acted on from the beginning, nearly a quarter of a century ago; a system plain, simple, uniform, which all can understand, which compels economy and prudence, discloses any attempt at extravagance or fraud, and above all enables every intelligent member to understand the manner in which his business is conducted."

DIVIDENDS.

The Dividends on the above simple and intelligible plan have been since 1861 of the uniform rate of 50 per cent., except in 1868, during which

Two Dividends of Fifty Per Cent.

Were returned, making the unprecedented amount of

ONE HUNDRED PER CENT.

IN A SINGLE YEAR,

The present prosperity of the Company, the amount and character of its assets, and the STEADINESS AND ECONOMY of its management, give every guarantee possible, in the nature of the case, that the dividends of coming years will not fall below the above standard of 50 per cent. on Life, annual rates, payable in three years after the premiums on which they are declared.

There will thus always be three dividends, payable with policy at maturity, to offset as many notes of equal amount which may have been given, so that the outstanding note is NOT (al statements to the contrary notwithstanding) deducted from face of Policy.

Dividends may be left with the Company to accumulate at compound interest until they make a fund, the annual interest of which will pay the cash premium required.

Thus, on the assumption of the above rate, a very simple calculation will suffice to show that a SELF SUSTAINING POLICY may be secured in

THIRTEEN YEARS

ON

LIFE RATES,

And a large accumulation on deposit, as in a Savings Bank, payable to the insured on demand, or with policy at maturity.

In addition to the above, the

MUTUAL BENEFIT

Issues all forms of Policies on the MOST FAVORABLE TERMS, warranted by

PERFECT SECURITY.

To those who prefer full CASH PAYMENTS, it offers all the essential advantages of a Cash Company; but the experience of a quarter of a century demonstrates that the NOTE SYSTEM, as originated and conducted by them, is as

Safe for the Company

AS IT IS

Advantageous to the Insured.

Securing from the outset double the amount of policy for the same cash investment.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, WEDNESDAY, May 12, 1869.

The gold premium has yielded to-day from 138⅞, last evening's quotations, to 138¼, with an apparent dull market. From the disposition among foreign houses and regular operators in gold, it is likely that a new bull campaign will be arranged within a few days, taking the unsettled condition of English and continental affairs as a basis, also the immense excess of imports over exports, the belligerent prospects with Spain on account of Cuba, and finally, the doubtful expediency of selling gold by the Government and buying up bonds without cancelling them.

Governments were strong and are still tending upward, but there are none but blank transactions.

The stock market is strong and pointing upward. Money is easier on call loans, but more difficult to obtain among the needy borrowers.

Quotations as received by Ph. R. Mertz: Gold, 138¾; Silver, 127; Eighty-one's, 120; Five Twenties, 1862, 119¾; do 1864, 115¾; do 1865, 116¼; do 1865, Consols, 117⅜; do 1867, 117¾; do 1868, ——; Ten Forties, 108½; New York Central, 81¾; Erie, —; Reading, 96¼; Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne & Chicago Railroad, 155¼; Ohio & Mississippi, 33½; Michigan Southern, 107½; Cleveland & Pittsburgh, 93; Chicago & Rock Island, 31½; Chicago & North Western, 91½; Chicago & North Western Preferred, 103⅜; Adams Express Company, 61½; Merchants Union Express, 55; Pacific Mail, 92; Western Union Telegraph Company, 43⅞; Am. Express 40⅝.

IMPORTANT TO HOLDERS OF GOVERNMENT BONDS.—The recent robberies of large amounts of Government Coupon Bonds, make it all important that the public should understand the only secure way of holding Government Securities is by having them registered properly, since, in case of loss, theft or destruction, the investor is still safe, as the Government will continue to pay the interest and will issue a new bond at the proper time. With regard to the Coupon Bond, it is however entirely different, as IT IS A TOTAL LOSS to the owner in case it is stolen, lost or destroyed, it being regarded by the Government the same as a Bank Note.

Some parties have the impression that Registered Bonds are more troublesome, and the interest more difficult to collect—this is an error; the interest on Registered Bonds can be made payable at any of the principal towns in the Union, and collected without regard to the locality of the owner, and the Bonds can be transferred the same as Coupon Bonds, by signing in blank before any Notary or Alderman.

JAMES T. BRADY & CO.,

Bankers and Dealers in Governments, Corner of Fourth and Wood Streets, Pittsburgh, Pa., will register any Government Bonds free of charge, and give at any time, by mail or otherwise, such information as may be desired.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, May 12, 1869.

The inauguration of the sinking fund to-day, by the purchase of a million of Five-Twenties, excited much attention in financial circles. Only $3,400,000 in bonds were offered, of which but $2,000,000 were at the market price. The awards made to Fisk & Hatch were $600,000 in 1864 coupons at 115 5-100, $200,000 in 1862s registered at 115 52-100, and $25,000 in 1864s registered at 115 53-100; and to Jay Cooke & Co., $100,000 in 1862s registered at 115 50-100, and $75,000 in 1864 coupons at 115 53-100. These purchases were cheaper than could have been made in open market. The stock exchange has resolved to put the Government Department back in its old room, and have three daily calls as before. There will be two calls of all other securities at 10 A. M. and 1:30 P. M.

Money easy at 6@7 per cent. on call, with increasing business at the lower rate. Prime discounts 7@9 per cent. Sterling firmer at 9⅛@9¾ for prime bankers', with good bills at 9. Sight bills 9⅜@10¼. Gold lower, closing heavy under the rise in bonds at London. The London dispatch to the Tribune, concerning the alliance between England, France and Spain, had no effect, being discredited; the prices opened at 138½, rose to 138⅝, and closed at 137¾. Rates for carrying 4@8 per cent. Clearances $98,000,000.

Governments were steady all day, with a disposition shown to take stock by German houses, who were large buyers of '62s as high as 119¾, the highest figure yet reached, for figuring with coupon on they would be 123¾. Transactions at the boards were moderate. The prevailing opinion is that Government intends to purchase a million every week, and the supply must grow small, resulting in higher rates. The market closed very firm. Coupons of '81, 120@120⅛; '62, 119¼; '64, 115⅛@115⅜; '68, 117⅛@117⅜; 10 40s, 108⅛@108¾; Pacifics, 106⅛@106¾.

Private advices from London represent the semi-monthly account, which closes to-morrow, as winding up favorably, which is probably the cause of the increased demand and rise in bonds.

State bonds firm but quiet: Missouris, 88¾@89¼; Old Tennesses, 68@68¼; new do, 66@66¾; New North Carolinas, 55¼@56; Virginias, 62@62½; Louisiana Levee 6s, 69¾@70¼.

The stock market has been active throughout the day, the features being St. Paul, Michigan Southern, Fort Wayne, Rhode Island, Wabash, North Western and Mariposa. Report says the North Western and Wabash are to be consolidated with the Lake Shore. The advance in these shares is quite marked. The New York Central also is active and strong but not higher.

5-30 Prices—Cumberland, 30½@33; Wells express, 35½@35¾; American, 40⅛@40¾; Adams, 60½@60⅝; United States, 66@66½; Merchants Union, 15@16; Quicksilver, 18¾@19; Canton, 62@62½; Pacific Mail, 94¼@94½; Western Union Telegraph, 43¾@44; Mariposa, 23@24; do. preferred, 48¾@49¾; New York Central, 181½@181⅝; Erie, 30⅜; Hudson, 157¼@157¾; Harlem, 148@149; Reading, 96½@96¾; Chicago and Alton, 157@159½; do. preferred, 157@161; Terre Haute, 38@40; do. preferred, 68¾@69; Wabash, 77¾@78; St. Paul, 78¾@78½; do. preferred, 87⅝@87¾; Ft. PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, WEDNESDAY, May 12, 1869.

The weather continues all that could be desired for the growing crops, in this section, and the advices from nearly all quarters are very encouraging in this respect, and there is every indication at this time, that the yield of grain this year will be largest in the history of the country. While it is probable that both Wheat and Flour may become a little stronger at times, between this and harvest, and possibly, advance slightly, yet, in the present aspect of things, there is no probability of any permanent advance: indeed, the indications favor lower instead of higher prices. Sugars are reported firmer, while in other articles, there are no important features worth of special notice.

APPLES—To use a common phrase, are nearly played out; but few in market and mostly in bad condition. Fair to choice, $5@8 per bbl.

GRAIN—Winter Wheat is scarce, and prime Red sells readily at $1,50. Oats easy with a supply somewhat in excess of the demand; may be quoted at 70@71 on track and 75@77 in store. Ear Corn is being sold on wharf and track at 76@78, and in store at 82@83, and shelled is quiet and unchanged. Rye is very dull, most of the distillers having stopped buying; we quote nominally ot $1,38@1,40, Barley is quiet with but little offering; prime Spring would bring $1,75.

Live Stock Markets.

NEW YORK, May 12.—Cattle firmer, with 1,670 fresh and 100 State stock; all have been sold, but in a dull and heavy market, ranging at 12@16½c; several very good droves were on sale among them 60 Illinois, for H. R. Smith, 83¾ cwt., at 15@16½c; J. Mulhall had 200 uneven, 6@9 cwt., Missouri cattle, which he sold at 14@16c; a lot of cattle of 53¾ cwt., Missouris, sold at 13c; the weather is very hot, which hurts trade. Sheep scarcely selling, with arrivals of 2,500, besides 3,000 left from yesterday; there are about 4,000 in the pens unsold; prices have fallen off fully ½c, the best not exceeding 7¾c; two cars Ohio sheared, 79 pounds, brought 6½c, and one car, 83 pounds, 7c. Dry Goods Market.

NEW YORK, May 12.—The market has again lapsed into a quiet state, but there is little or no change to observe in prices if we except Linen Chases, which are offered at a concession of ¼c per yard on all letters.

NATURE AND ART ABROAD.

[Correspondence of the the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

ROME, April 13, 1869.

I have felt perfectly powerless to write about Rome—its wonderful ruins, its pictures and statues have all been described by far greater pens than mine; and, after all, however perfect a description may be, it is only in seeing for one's self that its greatness and beauty can be appreciated.

I shall only attempt, therefore, to give a picture of these bright and beautiful streets. Modern civilization has touched almost every other city, smoothing all people down to a common-place and unpicturesque likeness, national and peasant costumes, every place else, are the exceptions, in Rome they are the rule. The streets are narrow, the houses high, with nothing of the well-to-do, handsome look of most capitals; but the tide of bright life constantly flowing through them, one strange and picturesque figure after another, makes such a series of pictures that one's eyes are never weary.

One bright morning we drove to the Vatican to see the pictures and statuary. We found a crowd of people pushing their way up a broad stair way, richly faced with marble, and were at once turned from our way to join them and see what was to be seen. Ascending with the crowd we soon found ourselves in a square paved court yard with arched recesses all round it, and the ever-present fountain splashing in one corner, and here we found what this show-loving populace had come for. It was the fiftieth anniversary of Pius the IXth's ordination to the priesthood. Gifts from princes and kings had been flowing in for some weeks, but here were the gifts of the people. Under the arches they were arrayed. In one place great bags of flour and grain, painted in alternate stripes of yellow and white, the Papal colors, casks of wine, piles of wool and flax, stands of wine in bottles, butter, eggs, vegetables, all decorated with flowers, banners and ribbons. In one corner of the court yard were sheep and lambs, goats, and the large-eyed, mouse-colored calves of the Campagna cattle, each had a gay blanket of white and yellow, and around his neck a card bearing the inscription, "Good wishes and congratulations to Il Papa, Pius IXth." Each offering bore the name of the villager that gave it, and, while we looked, great wagons from the Campagna came rolling in, decked with flags, each driven by a peasant in white shirt and scarlet vest, with his broad brimmed high crowned hat, knee-breeches and leggings; and drawn by the gentle long-horned oxen, with their peculiar hue of light mouse color, and their large bright eyes. Now and then a sudden warning cry would make you aware of the near existence of an exceedingly small donkey, attached to a big wagon, who might have run over you without your knowing it, but for the considerate warning of its master! All the wagons, big and little, were loaded with gifts for "Il Papa." Peasants came trooping in with short breeches made of goat's skin, like "Bryan O'Lynn's," "the shaggy side out and the skinny side in." If their rough shoes had turned into little hoofs, and they had capered off into a wild dance like their ancestors, (for all I know), the Satyrs, one would not have been surprised; and the Pope would have acknowledged them as good Christians, for on their backs they bore great wicker cages filled with poultry, and in their hands, tied up in bright handkerchiefs, gifts of butter and cheese, or their finest vegetables. There was something very touching in their offerings of their best, from their poverty, laid down at the feet of him who had so much, housed in that sumptuous Vatican! Such a crowd of spectators, too! Well-to-do citizens, tourists, lazy vagabonds and beggars, Cardinals' liveried servants, priests with long black gowns and three-cornered hats, bare-footed and bare-headed mendicant Friars in every sort of habit, white black, blue and brown; peasants and women, with the beautiful square-folded white head dress and scarlet boddice, so familiar to us in pictures. All here, good-naturedly crowding and pushing and exclaiming with delight. Every now and then one of the "Swiss Guard" would flash across the square like a brilliant tropical bird. His dress is of stripes of red, yellow and black, with a steel helmet with a perfect cascade of white plumes, and he carries a flashing steel battle ax of antique shape. The dress was designed by Michael Angelo, and though certainly gorgeous and brilliant, is scarcely artistic to an American eye, looking rather too much like a circus clown! Over this gay crowd of priests and soldiers and peasants poured the brilliant Italian sunshine, and we gazed till our eyes fairly ached with the color and motion. After some hours in the cool, shaded galleries of sculpture, among beautiful works of art of a life so different, so long gone by, we again entered the sunny street to find the stream of offerings still flowing towards the Vatican, the great and living picture gallery, as brilliant and varied as ever!

One never tires of these beautiful peasant costumes—though the women are not all beautiful, there is a coloring, richness of adorning well set off by the charming head-dress and full white chemisette. Every round throat too is clasped by its string of corals; every brown ear hung with a heavy gold (or gilded) ear-ring. There is a gracefulness and richness of color—for all their stout strong limbs—that is very unlike the German peasants. They often carry the queerest looking little babies, whom I cannot help pitying for all their fat and rosy cheeks;—for that is about all you see of them—they wear close little white caps, and from neck to feet they are wrapped tightly in a white bandage, a long strip of white cotton is wrapped tightly around them till they look like little mummies—their arms, though left out, are also swathed in bandages. Of course they need no other clothing, and economically considered, it is a success, but I cannot help believing that the number of lame, club footed, dwarfed and distorted limbs one sees is owing to this unnatural confinement of the lower limbs just at the age when we consider it so necessary to allow plenty of room to kick and grow. To conservative mothers, however, it must be a comfort to see that they have not departed from the custom of their fathers, for in one of Raphaels famous faescoes "The burning of the Suburb" just such a little mummy is being handed over a wall to escape the flames.

In the kingdom of Italy so many monasteries have been suppressed, and the power of the priests so much cut down, that you do not often see street processions or religious shows, and comparatively few monks or nuns; but in the States of the Church they flourish as of old. Constantly you meet them in little flocks, in every variety of priest's vesture. Processions, with lighted candles and chanting as they walk, are often met, and the bare-footed, brown-robed Capuchin is constantly in sight. They at least do not live in luxury; they are very poor, and being bare-footed, and having a new robe only once in three years, and wearing the same day and night, need I add—very dirty!

One evening, about five o'clock, we were sitting among the broken arches of the glorious Coliseum, when we heard a distant chanting. It drew nearer and nearer, and under those grand, dark arches wound a strange procession. About a dozen monks came first, clothed in long grey robes, bound round the waist with cords, with a pointed hood drawn so close over the face, so low on the breast, that one could not have known his best friend. Only the eyes were to be seen, looking unnaturally large and dark. They bore a crucifix and two tall lamps. Last walked a bare-headed Capuchin, who was to read the prayers. Then came a number of women clothed in black and bearing a tall black cross, and these were followed by a motley crowd, mostly women, and of the poorer classes, with a few soldiers, a few black-robed priests, a bare-footed pilgrim or two, and curious tourists. They sang as they walked, very badly I am forced to confess, as they drew nearer. In the centre of the Coliseum rises a common wooden cross, and for every kiss pressed upon it many years in Purgatory are taken off. Here the procession halted, and each one devoutly kissed it, while one old man—a pilgrim, with snow white hair and beard and bare feet—prostrated himself flat on his face on the ground. Indeed, whenever the others bowed, he lay flat with his face to the earth—it made one wonder whether he was so very wicked or so very good!

Turning to a small wooden pulpit, a Capuchin Monk mounted it and began to preach. We mingled with the crowd, though we could understand nothing of the sermon. The preacher had a rich, full voice, and was quite blind. All about the listeners grouped themselves, one woman in black quietly weeping. The bare-headed Capuchin, who read the prayers, had a haughty face, the delicate, scornful lips and broad brow you see so often in Roman busts. His dark, restless eyes showed traces of a spirit but half subdued, all the more striking from being the only uncovered face in all the group of Monks. The sermon was short, and was succeeded by a tour of all the shrines, prayers and chanting, joined in by all before each. Before what were once the dens of the wild beasts are now these shrines, fourteen in number; and here every Friday this service is held. In such a place, so haunted with memories of cruelty and blood shed, where Christian martyrs have died for their faith, with the soft Italian sunset gilding those broken and ruined walls, the sweet wind stirring the delicate vines and flowers, and mingling with the chant, the soft songs and twitter of the birds, what wonder that it stirred the heart and filled it with thoughts too deep to be written! The Crop Prospect in Ohio.

[Correspondence of the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

CHILICOTHE, May 10, 1869.

EDITORS GAZETTE: Ten days ago I was at Buffalo, New York. The weather was bleak and cheerless. A heavy body of ice extended up the lake over twenty miles, business was at a stand and all waiting for the tardy opening of navigation. Here the air is soft and balmy, the fields and trees are green, fruit trees in blossom, and the senses of smell and vision are regaled with pleasing sights and fragrant odors. There is promise of most beautiful crops in all this region. At a meeting of the County Horticultural Society, at this place, the present week, the fruit was reported to be uninjured by frost through all the surrounding country. The peach, cherry, plum, pear and apple trees are all filled with buds or blossoms, and those most familiar with the subject say there has not, in many years, been such promise of abundance of fruit of all kinds. So it is through all the country over which I have traveled. The wheat crop is equally promising. Since the first of March I have seen much of the country between New York and Washington, East and South, and Cincinnati, Cleveland and Buffalo, North and West, and I can truly say I have never, in thirty years of travel, seen such extensive fields of wheat, so luxuriant in growth, and with so very little that is damaged by winter-killing, frosts and insects. In any part of the country you may ride fifty miles and not see a poor acre of wheat. In this region the spring crops are already quite advanced and equally promising. Business generally is depressed, which was to be expected after its general expansion, the plethora of money, and consequent excitement and tendency to speculation followed, as it must be by contraction; but with the caution which generally prevails throughout the country, gradual retrenchment and so large a population again engaged in productive industry, confidence restored and fraternal feelings rapidly gaining ground between the sections and parties lately alienated, with the blessing of Providence, surely we may anticipate an era of prosperity never before known in this country.

CITY AND SUBURBAN.

THE GAZETTE is furnished in the city the six days of the week for 15 cents per week; by mail, $8 per annum: 3 mos., $2

The President has appointed John A. Myier, Esq., Postmaster of Allegheny.

The Allegheny Fire Alarm Telegraph has at last, it is thought, become reliable.

The Street cleaners were at work in Allegheny yesterday. They have a good field for labor.

Straw Hats are coming in fashion. A number of them have appeared on the streets, in the last few days.

Business at the Allegheny Mayor's office was light yesterday morning, only three cases being disposed of.

How to properly celebrate "Decoration Day," is the subject of general interest and discussion at present.

Meet To-Night.—Allegheny Councils will hold a regular semi-monthly meeting this evening at seven and a half o'clock,

Strawberries.—The strawberry season is at hand. The crop is said to be an extreamly heavy one, and the berries exceedingly fine.

The Meeting of the Allegheny Councils to-night, promises to be of unusual interest. Several especially important matters are to be acted upon.

New Crossings.—New cut stone crossings have been placed across Pitt alley, at the northeast and southeast corners of the Market House in Allegheny.

Col. Hartshorn, the brave and gallant commanding officer of the Bucktail Regiment in the late war, is in town, stopping at the Monongahela House.

Lectures to Ladies.—Dr. Gleason will deliver his second chaste and appropriate private lecture to ladies at Lafayette Hall this evening, splendidly illuminated with numerous models &c.

Pine Apples.—The market is completely glutted with pine apples. The crop is said to be unusually large, and the fruit a very superior quality. They are selling at from 25 to 35 cents each.

Warm.—Yesterday was the warmest day of the season. At half-past two o'clock the mercury stood at ninety degrees in the sun, and at seven o'clock last evening was above eighty degrees in the shade.

Lateral Sewer.—The excavation for the lateral sewer on Sandusky street, across North Commons and intersecting the Montgomery avenue sewer, is about finished, and the sewer will be finished in a few days.

Malicious Driving.—Wm. Glasgan was before Alderman Taylor, yesterday, charged with driving a two-horse wagon against the buggy of Thomas McKenna, and tearing a wheel off the lighter vehicle. The affair occurred on Penn street, near the railroad crossing. The accused gave bail for a hearing on an information for malicious mischief.

Still Another.—One more violater of law was brought to judgement yesterday in the person of Charles Rhodes, a vender of "benzine" in the Twenty third ward, who was taken before the Mayor on a charge of selling liquor on Sunday. He plead guilty and was required to pay the penalty of fifty dollars and costs in the case. Let the good work go on.

Blockaded.—Diamond Alley, between Smithfield and Wood streets, is still blockaded, in consequnce of a construction of the sewer. The excavation extends to Smithfield street and the sewer has been completed within a few feet of that point. It will be extended across Smithfield street, and probably completed during the present week.

Appletons' Journal.—The late number of this valuable journal, for sale by all our newsdealers, contains an eight page description and illustrated supplement on the mines of the precious metals. Every citizen of Pittsburgh, above all other places, should have a copy. The further contents of this paper will be found in our advertising columns.

Lecture Committee Appointed.—At a meeting of the Board of Directors of the Mercantile Library Association, held on the 5th inst., the following members were appointed to serve as the Lecture Committee of 1869-70: Wm. W. Howard, A. H. Saul, Wm. L. Chalfant, John G. Holmes, Malcom Hay, W. J. Radcliff and Wm. Schoyer.

Boistrous.—Kate Smith and a female companion were arrested on Third Avenue last night for disorderly conduct. She was exceedingly beligerent and refused to accompany the officer and resisted strongly. When she arrived at the lockup, she was minus the greater portion of her dress, and had received a severe blow in the eye. She was locked up for a hearing.

Special.—Messrs. Joseph Horne & Co., the well known trimming, notion and millinery goods dealers, Nos. 77 and 79 Market street, announce by column advertisement elsewhere, a special line of gents' undergarments, hosiery, etc., for summer wear, which they offer at very low prices. For any and everything in the way of gents' furnishing goods favor this old established and popular representive house with a call.

What it Cost Him.—Richard Boley was fined ten dollars and costs yesterday, by Mayor Drum, for interfearing with an officer. It seems Officer Gebby had a warrant for the arrest of a person who he learned was in attendance at a ball in the Third ward, on Tuesday evening, repairing to the place he was met at the door by Boley, who refused to allow him to enter, the officer at once arrested Boley, with the result as stated.

Taken to the County Home.—John Butt, the insane man who has been in the lock-up since Saturday, was removed to the County Home Tuesday afternoon by Robert H. Davis, one of the Directors of the Poor of the county. The unfortunate man came from Coultersville, up the Youghiogheny river, where his wife and four children now reside. He had been an inmate of the County Home for a short time previous to his arrest in this city.

Alexander Miller, Esq., of McKeesport, formerly a Representative in the Legislature from this county, will be presented to the forthcoming Republican County Convention for nomination to the Assembly. It is safe to say that whether as a citizen or a legislator; the sterling integrity of Alexander Miller never has been and never will be successfully impeached. His friends hope that his high in-egrity will not prejudice his chances in Convention. as they surely would not with the constituency.

Co-Partnership.—Mr. Henry Higby, the well known glass and queensware merchant, has associated with himself in business his brother, Mr. Albert Higby, under the name and style of Higby & Co., and will continue the business at the old stand on Wood street. The firm have just received a new and large stock which they offer at very inducing rates. We congratulate the new member on his entry into partnership with so old, staunch and reliable a house, and trust the firm may meet with that large share of patronage which they are so eminently deserving.

Mr. A. Dolgorouke, a native and citizen of the Russian Empire, accredited to us by a Boston correspondent, called upon us yesterday. His family possesses extensive landed estates, which abound in mineral deposits, iron, coal, &c., and also in oil springs. Mr. D. visits this country to study the American methods of mining, and especially to learn the most approved mode of mining bituminous coal, and of boring for and pumping petroleum. As the present visit of Mr. Dolgorouke is wholly for the purpose of gathering information, we bespeak a kind reception and treatment for him from those of our citizens upon whom he will call in prosecuting his researches.

Alleged Oil Nuisance.

Nicholas Snyder appeared before Alderman Nicholson yesterday, and made information against William and Henry Forsythe for maintaining a nuisance in the Eighteenth ward. Mr. Snyder had two houses burned by the recent burning of the oil works of Forsythe Bros., and it appears they are now storing large quantities of oil near his premises, which Mr. Snyder says endangers not only his own valuable premises but those of his neighbors; that the storing of oil in tanks containing large quantities of petroleum is a nuisance. Bail was entered by defendants.

Fifth Avenue Bank.

At a meeting of the Stockholders of this new institution, held in their hall, corner of Fifth avenue and Pride street, on Tuesday, an election was held for a Board of Directors, at which the number of shares voted was seven thousand eight hundred and sixty, resulting in the election of the following persons, viz: W. H. Sims, Edward Dithridge, Wm. C. Robertson, Daniel Kinzer, Wm. P. Weyman, Francis Siebert, Henry Meyer, D. M. Armor, and Emil Poerstel.

At an early day the Directors will organize, elect a President, Cashier, &c., and as soon as arrangements for that purpose can be perfected, will put the bank into operation.

Revenue Decisions.

Commissioner Delano sent the following decision to Collector Davis, of this District, yesterday; "A written extension of the payment of a mortgage requires the same stamp as the original instrument did." Also, in relation to promissory notes, as follows: "A promissory note containing merely power to confess judgment should be stamped at the usual rate of notes; but if, as is often the case, it contains one or more stipulations in addition, such as without having the benefit of the exemption laws, an agreement stamp is also required. Some contain contracts of the nature of a mortgage, which should be stamped as such."

Revenue Seizures.

By direction of Collector Davis, of the Twenty-second District, the stock of cigars and tobacco of Wm. Cohen, at No. 34 Wylie street, has been seized for alleged fraud on the revenue. Some days since representations were made to the Collector that Cohen packed cigars of his own manufacture into old boxes already stamped, thus evading the payment of tax. The stock seized is valued at $700 or $800. Cohen gave bail before the United States Commissioner for his appearance for trial on charges preferred.

The Collector also seized a number of barrels of tobacco belonging to Jacob Yost, of Coultersville, on the line of the Connellsville road, on the allegation that the tobacco had not been packed and stamped in accordance with the law. Mr. Yost also entered bail.

Committed for Trial.

Albert Price, charged with burglary, on oath of Mr. Robert Griffith, had a hearing before the Mayor, yesterday, and was committed to jail in default of the required bail for his appearance at Court to answer the charge. About eleven o'clock on Tuesday night Mr. Griffith heard a noise in his house, on Mulberry alley, and upon going down stairs to ascertain the cause found a man in the house. The door had been broken open and two chests in the room were broke open, the contents of one of which he was investigating when discovered. He immediately left the premises. An officer was called and started in pursuit of the burglar, overhauling him after a brief chase. He was taken to the lock-up, where he remained until yesterday morning, when he was committed.

Renegade of the Potomac.

The Academy was well patronized last night by those who wished to see the performance of the "Renegade of the Potomac," and thus contribute their mite to help the soldiers' widows and orphans. The piece, as on the previous representations, was admirably performed in all its parts, the gentlemen and ladies participating becoming entirely familiar with the business. It is in contemplation, we uneerstand, to give a matinee on Saturday afternoon, and to invite the children belonging to the Soldiers' Orphans' Schools in the city and vicinity to be present. If this is settled upon, as we hope it will be, the children will have an opportunity to hear and see something of the scenes in which their fathers lost their lives, that they might enjoy the privilege of living in a free conntry. Due notice of the matinee will be given.

Number Eight.

An unfortunate individual was picked up by the police about eight o'clock last night and taken to the lock-up, where we found him, in cell No. 8. He states that he had been pardoned out of the Penitentiary on the 8th of May, after spending eight months in that institution. He was arrested on the eighth of April, 1868, charged with stealing eight yards of muslin, in Crawford county, and on the eighth of September was convicted and sentenced to the Penitentiary for one year and eight months, and after serving the eight months was pardoned.

There seems to be some singular fatality existing between him and the number eight, and it still clings to him. He came to the city at eight o'clock yesterday morning and had taken but eight drinks during the day, and at eight o'clock last evening he called at number eight third street, and was then arrested and taken to the watch house and placed in cell number eight, and had just eight dollars eight and cents in his pocket. He will probably get out about eight o'clock this morning.

Subsequently he removed to New York city to practice law, and the defendants made information against him here of a criminal nature, upon which a warrant was issnde and the plaintiff, Mr. Weidman, arrested and brought back to this city. Amusements.

Opera House.—"Humpty Dumpty" continues to draw large audiences at the Opera House. The scenery is very fine, and the spectacle of a highly amusing character.

Pittsburgh Theatre.—"The Female 40 Thievs" was presented at the Pittsburgh Theatre for the first time last night, to a crowded house. The scenery and stage parapheralia generally are exceedingly grand, and the several characters are well sustained.

COMIC ENGLISH OPERA.—On the 24th inst., at the Opera House, the pretty, sprightly and charming actresses, the Chapman Sisters, accompanied by a full troupe, will inaugurate a brief season of Comic English Opera. These dashing and brilliant young artistes have everywhere been awarded large audiences, and we dare say our staid old city will go into raptures when they put in an appearance on our theatrical boards. The engagement of the troupe is necessarily brief, running through a week, during which, however, the new musical burlesques of Ixion, Forty Thieves and Abon Hassan, the Wag, will be presented.

The Immortality of the Soul. (?)

MESSRS. EDITORS GAZETTE:—Allow me to inform "Anima," through your columns, that Elder Wendell is now at home in Erie county, but does deny that the immortality of the soul is taught in the Scriptures of Truth, and believes that doctrine is the mother of errors in the Church of Christ, and the basis of all false religions, and originated among the heathen philosophers. If any minister or a plurality of them, of approved character, in whom the public have confidence, or any laymen having the above qualifications, will affirm it in public oral discussion, he will return here and deny. Many of our citizens have expressed a desire to hear a discussion on that subject, believing it would be productive of good, and I hope "Anima" will lay aside his mask and stand forth boldly like Paul, who was "set for the defense of the Gospel."—Phil. 1: 17."

I will also state Elder Miles Grant, editor of the Crisis, of Boston, has a standing challenge to those who believe and teach this doctrine, and is ready at any time to deny it. To increase an interest in this subject, I will donate $20 for every passage of Scripture where the immortality of the soul is mentioned, to any Church or Sunday School the finder may elect. JOHN A. BEST,

Fifth avenue and Tunnel street.

Brutal Outrage.

Between one and two o'clock this morning, John Sullivan, late a private in Company D, Fifth United States Infantry, but discharged on the 30th instant, at Fort Reynolds, Colorado Territory, was attacked and beaten in an inhuman manner. He was on his way home, to Fall river, Mass., and while waiting for a train went from the Union Depot to the Rush House, where he took several drinks. He then left the house to go back to the depot, when he was followed by a ruffian, who, it is stated, was armed with a mace which he got from the bar keeper, and attacked on the sidewalk without the slightest provocation. He was knocked down with the mace and struck several times on the head and face, inflicting serious wounds. The ruffian who did the beating is known to the police and will probably be arrested this morning.

BOYS' QUARREL.

Youthful Vengeance—A Little Boy Stabs a Compaulon—Probable Homicide.

On Tuesday evening great excitement was created in the neighborhood of Pike street, Third ward, Allegheny, by the startling announcement that in an encounter between two boys, one of them had received a severe stab with a knife in the hands of his opponent, which it was feared would prove fatal. From all we could learn of the circumstances, it appears that John Satley and James Grazer, aged respectively thirteen and nine years, had a quarrel on Monday evening, resulting in the defeat of Grazer. The defeated boy brooded over the matter considerably, it would seem, and spent the following day in preparing a plan for obtaining vengeance. The boys reside in the neighborhood of each other, and Satley, who was employed in the factory, has been accustomed to pass the house of Grazer on his way home. At the close of the day, aware of this fact, it is stated, Grazer stationed himself on the pavement in front of his residence and awaited his opponent. Nothing peculiar was noticed in his action, and no persons seems to have had any idea of his design. A short time after he had taken his stand Satley made his appearance, and was passing by, apparently suspecting no danger, when Grazer, it is said, quietly stepped up and stabbed him in the back with a large carving knife, which he had previously concealed from view. The victim immediately fell to the ground, but by this time the affair had attracted the attention of three men in the vicinity, who surrounded the place, securing the youthful desperado, and carrying his victim home. Dr. Hardtmeyer was immediately summoned, and after an examination discovered that the knife had penetrated in close proximity to the kidneys, sufficient to produce a mortal wound. He rendered all the medical assistance possible, but pronounced the case almost hopeless. Grazer was accordingly arrested and taken before Alderman Bolster, who held him to await the result the victim's injuries. At the latest accounts, Satley was still living, but the physician had no hopes of his recovery. The little fellow who committed the deed is but nine years of age, and evidently could not estimate the serious nature of his offense. The affair is an exceedingly unfortunate one, and the occasion of great grief to the parents and friends of the parties.

Belladonna (Deadly Nightshade) and Stramonium (Thornapple) as Poisons.

This short article is suggested by reading the testimony of the physicians before the Coroner's jury, in the case of death by poisoning, which occurred in Allegheny on Saturday last.

The intention is to popularize the most approved treatment in cases of poisoning by either of the substances named at the head of this article. Cases of poisoning by stramonium (thornapple or Jamestown bud) are of not unfrequent occurrence, those from belladonna not so frequent, because it is not so accessible.

The symptoms produced by these two articles are very similar; both produce great dilation of the pupil, and from this fact are called mydriatics; both produce vertigo, delirium sometimes of a furious, sometimes of a whimsical character; paralysis and coma; a flushed face is produced by both articles, but belladonna produces more of the redness resembling scarlet fever.

In the treatment, common sense suggests that the first best thing to be done is to evacuate the stomach either by emetic or stomach pump, in all cases of poisoning by narcotics. But this is not always very easily accomplished, at least so thoroughly as to get rid of all the poison.

Antidotes are then to be used. It has long been known that the caustic alkalies have the effect of destroying the active principle of belladonna, stramonium and hyosciamus; therefore, lime water, or a solution of potassa, are valuable antidotes.

The above mentioned treatment is undoubtedly of much value and ought to be used in all cases, but the most valuable antidote is opium.

It has been known for a long time that opium is antagonistic to beladonna and stramonium, but this fact has, of late years been more clearly established, and prominently brought before the medical profession. In the American Medical Journal, January 1862, page 54, et seq. cases of poisoning by stramonium, successfully treated with opium, are related. In the same journal for October, 1862, page 395, is to be found an elaborate article, a summing up of a vast amount of testimony in favor of the antagonism of these articles. The experiments of S. Weir Mitchell, M. D., and Geo. R. Morehouse, M. D., detailed in the American Medical Journal for July, 1865, clearly prove that these agents, so far, at least, as their poisonous effects on the cerebral organs are concerned, are mutually antidotal. In addition to many cases scattered through the literature of the medical profession, we have the high authority of Dr. Brown Sequard. In his lectures on the diagnosis and treatment of functional nervous affection, part I, page 77, he says, "From the researches of these practitioners and experimenters, as well as from my own, it results, that, besides the well known antagonistic effects of these two remedies on the eye, there is a decided antagonism between them as regards their effects on the heart, on the brain, and on the spinal cord. In consequence of this antagonism, the dose of opium to produce sleep ought to be greater than usual, if belladonna is employed with it. And also the dose of belladonna, against reflex paraplegia, ought to be greater than usual, if the patient is also taking opium. I might say the same thing as regards the antagonism between opium and stramonium or hyosciamus."

It seems, therefore, to be pretty well established, that these substances antagonise each other, and in cases of poisoning from belladonna or stramonium that opium would be a valuable antidote, and from poisoning by opium, that belladonna or stramonium would be of great service to counteract the poisonous effects. MEDICUS.

The Keystone Pottery.

It is seldom enterprise is so quickly rewarded as in the case of the Keystone Pottery. Establishing it in a community where all articles of queensware of good quality were imported, and the impression existed that no home manufacturer could succeed in this line, the proprietors of the "Keystone" by careful attention to business and indefatigable efforts to manufacture a superior article, have in a comparatively short space of time, produced a quality of goods which are recognized by their numerous purchasers as fully equal to the best heretofore imported, and much lower in price. The warehouse, No. 363 Liberty street, is well stocked with a full line of these goods, which will bear the closest inspection, and be found all that is represented. Orders addressed to S. M. Kier & Co., proprietors, will receive prompt attention.

Important Information.

Dame Nature has laid aside her Wintry robes and appears decked in all the variegated and beautiful vesture of Spring. In imitation of this standard authority, the ladies are now making preparations to appear properly costumed for the season, and the important question with them is where can the requisite articles be procured? This question may be easily settled by remembering the fact that W. W. Moorhead, No. 87 Market street, in anticipation of the Spring changes closed out by auction all his old, and purchased an entirely new stock of dress goods, trimmings, lace goods, &c., which are now on sale at his establishment. In making purchases, Mr. Moorhead was careful to remember the wants of the trade, and, as a consequence, every article in the store is of the latest pattern and superior quality, so that no difficulty need be encountered in making selections. Our lady readers, we are sure, will be glad to hear of this fact, as they will thereby be enabled to take advantage of it and be relieved of trouble by calling at 87 Market street to make their purchases.

Summer Boarding.

A family living in a retired part of the country wish to take a few children to board during summer. Health will be the principal object. The air and water are remarkably pure, and plain wholesome food will be furnished abundantly. Care will be taken of their morals and behavior, and if desired, their school lessons can be continued during a part of the day; also instructions on the piano. All the freedom of a country life consitent with health will be allowed, and daily walks in the fields and woods under the care of a faithful attendant.

Adult boarders also accommodated. For full particulars and reference, address, Mrs. J. BARNES,

3 Columbiana County, Ohio.

The Youngest Prisoner.

Warden Scandrett, yesterday received probably the youngest prisoner ever lodged in the institution over which he presides. The commitment was signed by Alderman Stewart, of the Fifth ward, Allegheny, and consigned to the Warden's care, Hugh Conner, a little fellow hardly seven years of age, charged with stealing a watch from Henry Brown. He was commited until a hearing in the case could be had, which was named for Saturday, at ten o'clock. Three days association with the abandoned, depraved, and vicious, will afford the child many opportunities for learning new lessons. Was the jail built for this?

Who Gets Them.

Considereble inquiry has been made recently relative to the shipment of a large lot of cigars to Washington City, which, it is presumed, were intended for the use of the President. We cannot say to whom the segars were assigned or for whom they were intended, but we do know that President Grant cannot get a better segar than can be obtained at 45 Hand street, at the wholesale and retail segar and tobacco mart of Jno. Megraw. Mr. Megraw has on hand one of the largest and best stocks of tobacco and segars to be found in the city, including all the best brands of both articles. He also deals in pipes, tobacco pouches, segar cases, and, in fact, everything usually found in a first class tobacco house.

Books and Stationery.

The establishment of Col. J. D. Egan, dealer in books and stationery, Sixth avenue, near Smithfield street, is doing a thriving business in consequence of the reduced rates at which he is selling books and stationery. Colonel Egan has on hand a large assortment of books, including all the late publications, standard works, &c., and he has also an extensive lot of second hand books, among which are many rare and valuable works, which will be sold at less than half price. His stock of stationery is full and complete, including every variety of note, cap and letter paper, with the envelopes to suit. All the late periodicals and magazines will be found on his counter.

The Continental Saloon.

The high reputation Holtzheimer's Continental dining saloon has always sustained, and the extensive patronage it receives is the strongest evidence of its superiority as a restaurant. We speak advisedly, and know whereof we speak when we say that the Continental dining saloon is not surpassed in any respect by any establishment of the character in the city. The tables are always supplied with the best the market affords; the rooms are kept clean and neat, and every thing is in the most perfect order. Remember the Continental is on Fifth avenue, one door west of the Postoffice.

Splendid Chances to Buy Cheap.

Preparatory to moving to his new wareroom, (now being built for him on Fifth avenue), Mr. C. C. Mellor is closing out his extensive and varied stock of Pianos, Organs, Melodeons, Musical Instruments of all kinds, at very greatly reduced prices. Parties can save from $50 to $100 on a Piano or Organ by buying at Mellor's. Such indacements are not offered often, and those who want to buy cheap, and save money, should visit Mellor's Rooms, 81 Wood street, at once. 6

The Fame of the celebrated Plantation Bitters has no parallell in the history of Medicine. The thousands upon thousands of bottles that are made and sold daily is but proof positive of their wonderful virtues. Thousands of Certificates can be produced showing the efficacy and certainty of the cures which they effect, and the Medical Fraternity, usually so jelous of any thing which causes pesrons to think and doctor for themselves, are compelled to acknowledge their wonderful virtues, and prescribed them under other names. They are sold by all druggists.

The Insurrection in Cuba.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

HAVANA, May 12.—Accounts from Spanish sources report that after the fight at Alta Gracia, General Lesca reached Puerto Principe with his convoy, the insurgents being unable to detain him, and that the Cubans lost one thousand killed and wounded. The Diario says two thousand, but the Vose De Cuba doubts the correctness of the Diario's information. Letonia, who made the official report of the affair at Alta Gracia, gives few details. He says since the fight the rebels cannot get together two thousand.

The taxes for the coming fiscal year are to be reduced fifty per cent.

The Gazetta publishes accounts of further confiscations.
